

Collazo Indicted By Jury

Charge Slaying In Connection With Attempt On Life Of Truman

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—(AP)—A federal grand jury today indicted Oscar Collazo, 37-year-old Puerto Rican, for murder in connection with the Nov. 1 attempt on President Truman's life.

The charge is based on the killing of Leslie Coffelt, 40, White House guard, when Collazo and Griselda Torresola tried to shoot their way into Blair House, the President's temporary residence.

Torresola was killed in the rain of bullets from guards which felled Collazo with wounds in the chest and shoulder.

Conviction of murder carries the possibility of a death sentence in the District of Columbia. From the stories of eye-witnesses, there is some evidence that Torresola actually shot Coffelt. But under District of Columbia law, when two or more persons engage in a felony and kill some one, all are considered equally liable to charges of murder.

Collazo's arraignment, to make a plea in response to the indictment, was tentatively set for next Friday, Nov. 17. Whether he will be required to appear in court that day will depend upon his progress in recovering from his wounds.

Collazo has been under guard at Gallinger hospital, a city-operated institution. Shortly after the indictment was announced, the hospital reported he was being moved to the city jail.

Body of Torresola Reaches San Juan

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico, Nov. 10.—(AP)—The body of Griselda Torresola, killed in the Nov. 1 assassination attempt on President Truman, was brought to San Juan from New York today. Alfredo Platell, a brother-in-law, was the only relative at the airport to receive the body.

Absentee Votes Don't Change Standings of Unofficial Count

Absentee ballots cast in Pettis county in Tuesday's general election were checked and counted Thursday and the results made no difference in the standing of the candidates who were elected and rejected by the voters. There were 340 absentee ballots voted and returned to County Clerk James Green's office.

Of the 340 ballots 33 were rejected by the judges of the absentee counting because the voter of each ballot was not found to have been registered in the precinct designated on the affidavits. One ballot, which had been mailed to a patient in a St. Louis hospital was returned as the patient had been dismissed from the hospital.

This gave 307 ballots which were counted by the judges.

Counting was done by the following: Democrats Fred F. Wesner and Frank W. Hayes and Republicans Mayor Herb E. Studer and Chester L. Wolfe, assisted by County Clerk Green and his deputy, Lee Brandt.

The official count is being conducted today by Harold Barrick, Democrat, and E. R. Keller, Republican, of LaMonte, assisted by County Clerk Green.

The total official count will be given when it has been completed. The official absentee count is as follows:

Gen. John C. McLaughlin Be Congress Call Honor Guest

Commander of Of 35th Division Be Feted At Dinner

General John C. McLaughlin, of this city, commander of the 35th Division, will be honor guest tonight at a dinner at Hotel Muehlebach in Kansas City, and on Armistice Day members of that division who participated in the Normandy invasion in World War II will see the motion picture version of their own history as guests of the Paramount theater in Kansas City.

The picture is "Breakthrough." The Warner Bros. movie deals with the exploits of an infantry platoon from the landing on Omaha beach to the historic breakthrough at St. Lo. It was produced with the co-operation of the Department of Defense.

Band Will Play

In connection with the observance, the 42nd army band will give a concert from 7 until 7:30 o'clock Saturday night in front of the theater. An honor guard of members of the division carrying guidons of the various division elements will be stationed at the theater and a Red Cross mobile unit will be on hand to dispense free coffee and doughnuts to men in uniform.

The division will arrange displays in the foyer and on the mezzanine floor, including an official flag of St. Lo presented to the division at its reunion here in June, 1947.

Commanding officers of units of the division will be guests at a dinner tonight at the Hotel Muehlebach. They will hear an address by Lieut. Col. Maddray A. Solomon of the faculty of the Army War college at Ft. Leavenworth, who was chief of staff of the division from April, 1944, until December, 1945. That period included all the European operations of the division in World War II.

Colonel Kelly A Guest

Another guest from Ft. Leavenworth will be Col. Henry E. Kelly, acting assistant commander of the Command and General Staff college there, who commanded the 117th infantry regiment of the 30th infantry division in the Normandy invasion.

Col. Coleman Branton, Kansas City, chief of staff of the division, will preside at the dinner tonight. A scroll of commendation will be presented to Warner Bros.

Colonel Branton said the showing of the film would be in connection with a recruiting drive for the various units of the division. Following each showing of the movie, the theater will run a recruiting film urging enlistments and listing the units and armories of the organizations comprising the division. Recruiting signs will be posted and a recruiting desk will be installed in the lobby. Weapons also will be on exhibition.

Still Studies Congress Call

President Plans To Confer With Legislators

ABOARD YACHT MY MARY GAIL, Nov. 10.—(AP)—President Truman was reported today to be still considering whether he would ask that congress come back to work early.

Presidential Secretary Charles Ross told reporters that Mr. Truman expects to confer with legislative leaders about it after his Chesapeake Bay cruise ends. Those conferences may begin on Monday although there has been no official announcement as to just when Mr. Truman will return to Washington.

Allowing a little time for notice, it would appear that Mr. Truman could not meet earlier than Nov. 20, just a week ahead of the Nov. 27 date that congress itself set for reconvening.

Ross talked by radiotelephone from the presidential yacht Williamsburg to newsmen on this press boat. He said Mr. Truman was up to 7 a. m. (EST) after a good night of sleep and had spent the morning working on official papers.

The Williamsburg was anchored last in the Patuxent river. This morning's departure was delayed for an hour while crew members went ashore to get a supply of Chesapeake Bay oysters for the presidential table.

The anchor finally was upped at 11 a. m. (EST) for the day of cruising. The plan was to anchor tonight in the mouth of the St. Mary's river.

By contrast with yesterday's summer-like weather, today was chill and overcast. The temperature dropped 30 degrees overnight.

Pickets Off And On In The 'Phone Strike

New Strategy Seems To Be On Over Country

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—(AP)—Striking telephone equipment workers abruptly withdrew picket lines from some exchanges across the country today in an apparent launching of a new "push button" strike tactic.

Idea of the strategy, as described by union spokesmen, was to employ surprise picketing concentrating lines in some places, not in others, and picketing on some days and not on other days.

The strike, called yesterday by the CIO Communications Workers of America to enforce demands for a "substantial boost" in wages from the Western Electric company, slowed long distance service because operators refused to cross picket lines. Local service generally was not affected.

The union, which represents 17,000 Western Electric employees, rejected a company offer of about 11 cents an hour additional in wages. Present wages now average $1.55 to $1.62 an hour. The union has not disclosed its specific wage demands. Length of contract also is an issue.

First indication of the start of the new strike technique came when pickets suddenly left telephone buildings in Dallas, Texas, Denver, and Newark and other New Jersey cities. Pickets also failed to show up in Springfield, Mo., and other Missouri communities.

"We don't know what it means," said a Southwestern Bell Telephone official in Dallas. "We understand they will allow the other workers to be on the job today—and then maybe stop them again tomorrow."

He called the plan a "war of nerves."

Roving Lines

As part of the plan, union spokesmen have said they intended to use mass, roving picket armies to concentrate on certain areas on certain days. There also was talk of "jamming" local and long-distance circuits by placing useless calls.

In Springfield, Mo., a telephone official said a cable was cut today, entirely halting telephone and teletype service for the Springfield Newspapers, Inc., and Radio Station KGBX.

These developments came as a union source said a federal mediation session has been called here today—for the first time since start of the nationwide strike which has idled thousands and disrupted some service.

He said a conciliator would meet with representatives of the CIO Communication Workers of America and the Western Electric company, American Telephone and Telegraph company subsidiary.

The joint session was scheduled for 1:30 p. m. (EST) between the company and the union's Division 18, which represents 5,000 Western Electric distribution and warehouse workers.

Efforts were being made to arrange a similar meeting for the union's Division 6, representing some 11,000 equipment installers. About 700 Western Electric manufacturing workers, members of Division 68, also are on strike in Haverhill, Mass.

Firemen Help Get A Letter Mailed

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 9.—(AP)—Henry L. Smith, 76, Blytheville, Ark., tried to mail a letter today—and three screaming fire engines came to help him.

Smith told police he opened a red box to mail a letter. He couldn't find a letter slot. So he turned a key. That set off a fire alarm.

Police agreed there were no malicious intentions. No charges were filed.

Officer Fred Beckmann escorted him to a mail box.

Full Impact Lies Ahead On Rearming

Drop Idea On Voluntary Means For Control

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—(AP)—Secretary of Commerce Sawyer, forecasting that the full impact of rearmament will hit industry "next spring or summer," said today the government has dropped the idea of controlling production by voluntary means.

The National Production Authority (NPA), Sawyer told a news conference, will rely chiefly on mandatory orders because voluntary, industry-wide compacts "just won't work."

The secretary gave assurance, however, that NPA will try not to curtail civilian goods output so rapidly as to cause temporary idleness and slack business before military buying hits its stride.

Sawyer also reported: 1. The steel industry may "substantially increase" its plant expansion program above the 9,500,000 tons already assured by the end of 1952.

2. He expects the expansion to continue at the same rate after 1952, thereby bringing steel-making capacity to about 120,000,000 tons a year by the end of 1954.

3. He is confident that looming bottlenecks in manganese, iron ore and ore boats will be overcome. All are vital to expanding steel production.

Hundreds Fled From Fire In California

Blaze Swept By High Winds Threat To San Bernardino

By Jim Hubbard and Graham Berry

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif., Nov. 10.—(AP)—Hundreds fled their homes in the darkness today as a fire swept by 50-mile-an-hour winds threatened much of the city's northern residential sector.

Firemen said it was almost out after a six-hour fight.

At one point, police reported hundreds of homes burning, while pajama clad residents—many of them women and children—played garden hoses on roofs. But as dawn came, only one home on a hilltop appeared a complete loss. A half-dozen others were badly damaged and spot burns and charred paint showed on many more.

A two-mile strip several blocks wide in places, but largely blackened near the foothills, was blackened.

The fire department reported 14 men injured as a result of the flames and the high winds. Most of them suffered facial cuts and eye injuries from flying debris and cinders. None of the injuries was described as serious.

So fierce was the wind that the paint was blasted off one U. S. Forest Service truck.

"Sometimes you couldn't even see the fire, the dust got so bad," one fireman related. And another observed: "I hate to think what would have happened if this thing had got away from us. The whole town might have gone up."

Talk To Kiwanis By Mayor Studer On Sedalia Problems

Problems facing Sedalia and some of the improvements presently being made by administrative activities were related by Mayor Herb E. Studer in a talk before the Sedalia Kiwanis club. The text in part is as follows:

"Approximately seven months ago on April 4th of this year, a bombshell came down upon the Studer family. My family and I were leading a quiet, conservative life, which overnight was changed into a life of confusion and unsettlement. I realize that by running for mayor many of the events which have happened to me were asked for and I want to say here and now, that I have not regretted this step. Some people desire to help their community through civic organizations, others through active membership in our Chamber of Commerce, and still others through their good work in our churches and schools. I have had the pleasure also of participating in these activities and wanted also to take an active part in our city affairs to help do what I could in my small way, to build a bigger and better Sedalia.

"It would be most difficult for me to express the feeling of humbleness and the deep sense of humility that I felt upon being elected to the highest office that the people in Sedalia were capable of giving to an individual, and I assure you that I shall never do anything in the slightest way that would destroy the confidence placed in me.

"The problems facing our city today are exceedingly important and many of them are hard to solve. The most difficult problem the city is faced with is one of finances. I am sure that we will all admit that this phase of city operation is not just a local condition, but one which is true throughout the country today. I am a firm believer that regardless of the many improvements we would desire to make, we must necessarily look at our established income and live within it. No one, be it a housewife, a businessman, a municipality, a state government, or a national government can, for a very long period of time, disregard their spending in relation to their income and expect prosperity to continue for an indefinite period. If we did, we would eventually have to face the day of reckoning and suffer the consequences brought about by these policies.

Many Street Improvements
"In June of this year, when the city budget was presented to the council it contained essential expenditures and a reasonable amount of money to be spent for needed and progressive improvements. During the past seven months we have lived within our budget and have followed our plan. During this past summer we were able to seal-coat approximately eight miles of new streets and this represented one of the largest forward street programs this city has ever had. Much work on our streets still remains to be done and our crews are working daily, cutting ditches, grading and cleaning out culverts to help put our streets in good condition. It is our hope that the state government will see fit to give us the help we deserve in fixing and maintaining the state highways which run through our city.

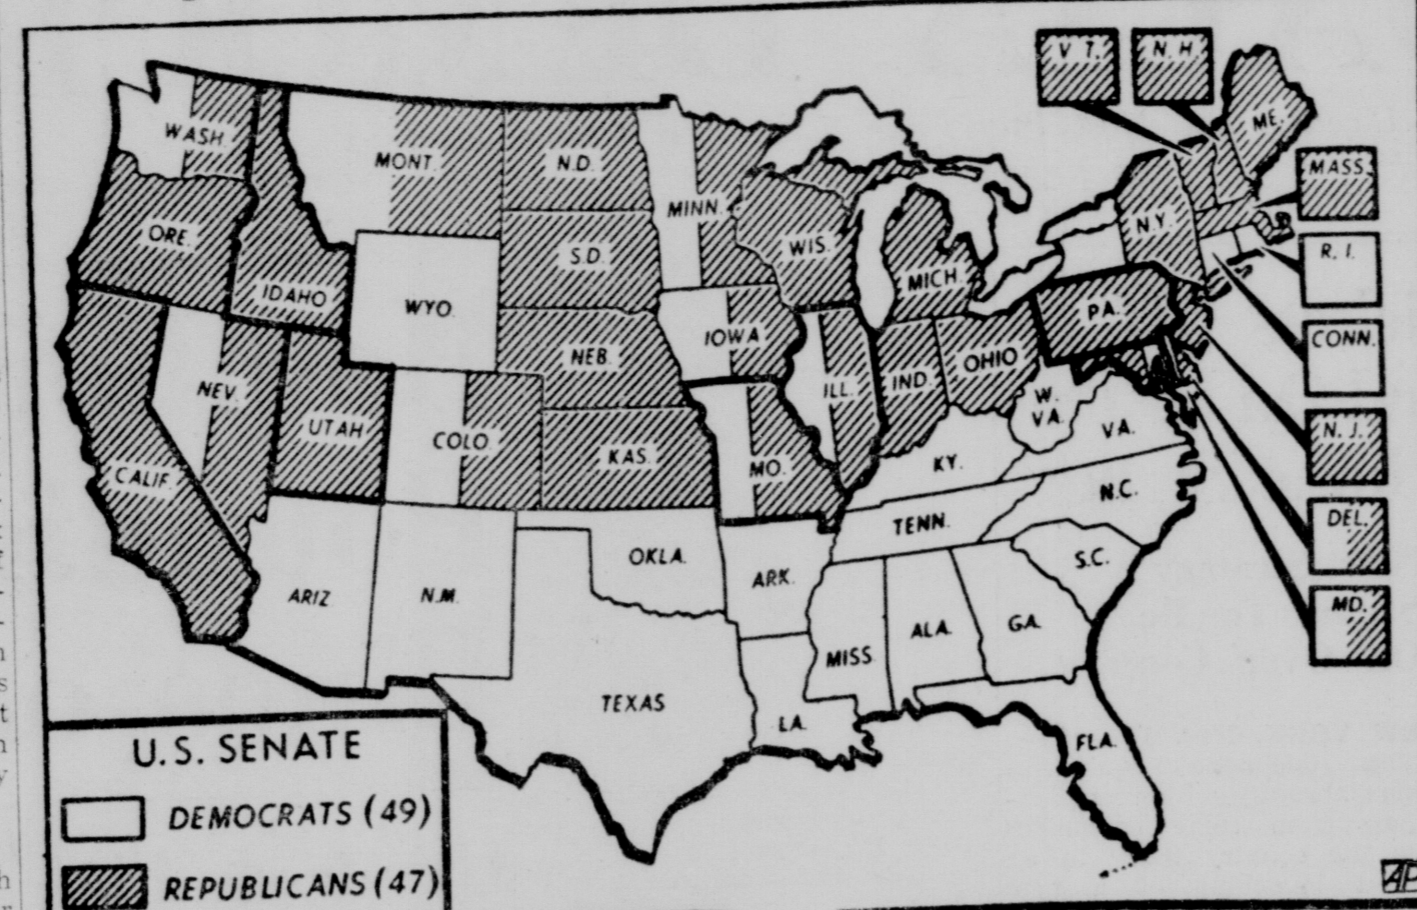

"The program of street lighting is running ahead full blast and the Missouri Public Service is presently installing street lights at a faster clip than was ever known before in our town. One of the happiest moments of my life was just recently when a switch was thrown turning on 82 new lights for its efficient operation. This city institution in the past has operated on a deficit to the tune of $500 per month. Under this new set-up Dr. Maddox may hire whom he pleases to help make a more desirable, efficient hospital, which in my opinion will create and stimulate renewed interest in this hospital. During the short time this plan had been in effect we have already been able to see the fruits of his labors and have affected substantial savings and at the same time have completely eliminated the politics which have no place in a humane business such as this.

"A few months ago this city disposed of the present airport property in order that Sedalia might have an airport more adequate and suitable to its needs. Inasmuch as this transaction would involve a substantial sum of money, I appointed a representative group of citizens to a committee for the purpose of advising the mayor and council and lend to us the benefit of their knowledge and business experience in a venture of this nature. This committee was composed of Messrs. W. H. Carl, C. L. Carter, H. R. Harris, H. W. Mason and William Bunn—all being men of outstanding character and business ability, and upon the recommendations as outlined by them, I personally feel the city benefited and derived more money from the sale of this land. When the various details are completed in this transaction the city will have available approximately $150,000, which we are told is ample to construct a splendid runway, hangars, administration building, parking facilities, etc. It is also estimated 20,000,000 bottles of HADACOL have been made and sold thus far in 1950. This is a record for any product but it is even more unusual when you consider that HADACOL is advertised in only 22 states.

Advertising has sold the first bottle of HADACOL to many folks; HADACOL is a very meritorious product and the results it has obtained have made possible the sale of these 20,000,000 bottles in 10 months.
Faith has been an important factor in the development of HADACOL—faith made possible its creation and the faith the American people have placed in my product has been responsible for its growth. I pledge to the American people that the faith they have placed in HADACOL will never be violated.

Nobel Awards In Literature

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, Nov. 10.—(P)—American Novelist William Faulkner and British Philosopher Bertrand Russell were awarded Nobel literary prizes today for 1949 and 1950.

The Swedish academy elected Faulkner, of Oxford, Miss., as winner of the 1949 prize—withheld last fall. This year's prize was given to 78-year-old Russell, internationally famed philosopher, mathematician and moralist.

The winners were selected from among more than 50 candidates. They will receive the awards from the new Swedish King, Gustaf VI, when the Nobel Foundation celebrates its 50th anniversary Dec. 10.

This year's prize money totals 164,303 krona ($31,715), while the sum frozen last year totaled 156,229 krona ($30,007).

Faulkner is the fourth American to win the Nobel prize for literature.

With the selection of Russell, the awarding body abandoned the purely literary line for the first time in 23 years.

The literary award was not made in 1949 because of a deadlock in the academy over a choice between British statesmen and Historian Winston Churchill and Italian philosopher Benedetto Croce. Neither figured in the final balloting this year.

The 53-year-old Faulkner, born near Oxford, Miss., and still living there, has authored some 20 books, including the best-selling "Sanctuary," "Intruder in the Dust," "Light in August" and "Absalom, Absalom!"

Russell, three times married, twice divorced, and now the third Earl Russell, was first of all a mathematician, and later applied the mathematical approach to cold reasoning in philosophy. But his voluminous work embraces dissertations on the history of philosophy, on morals, the frontiers of knowable science and on education.

Deaths Might Change Control

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—(P)—A check of recent history indicated today the possibility that the thin Democratic control of the new Senate could be wiped out by the grim factor which the military calls attrition.

There is a chance, too, that deaths and resignations will widen the slender 49 to 47 margin by which the Democrats expect to organize the new Senate in January.

Senate records show 30 members of that body died in office during the last six sessions—or 12 years. That is an average of five Senators for each session. The fatalities ranged from three to nine for a session.

Tuesday's elections trimmed the Democratic majority from 54 to 42 down to 49 to 47. Since Vice President Barkley may vote whenever the Senate is tied, Democrats would retain control if the split were 48 to 48.

Several times in recent years the death or resignation of a Senator has altered the party line-up. A change does not result every time there is a vacancy. This is because such vacancies are filled by the governor of the state involved. Usually the governor appoints a loyal member of his own party.

Tuesday's elections gave the GOP a majority of the governorships, so if other factors were even they might have an edge in possible appointments.

Democrats Still Hold Balance

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 10.—(P)—The Democrats will remain in the saddle in the new state legislature, but the balance of power will be more evenly divided.

An Associated Press tabulation of returns from every county in the state shows the Democratic membership in the House was reduced by Tuesday's general election from 98 to 84, with three contests still undecided.

Sixty-seven Republicans were elected, an increase of seven.

Twenty-four of the elected Democrats and nine of the Republicans were without opposition in the election.

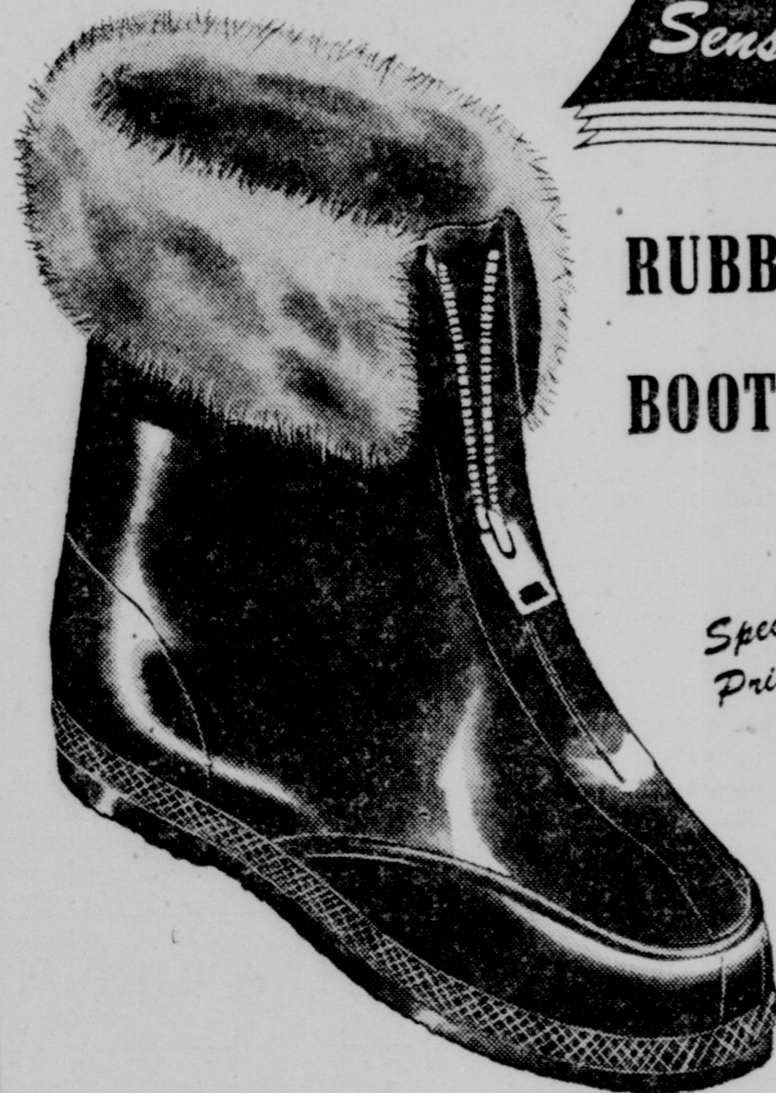

The three close contests, which will be determined by an absentee vote count, occurred in Cole, DeKalb and Madison counties.

The Republicans had threatened to try to impeach Gov. Forest Smith if they gained control of the House, where impeachment proceedings begin.

Partisan issues probably will have little chance in the new legislature. Passage of most leg-

Truman Plans Over-All U. S. Defense Program

By Drew Pearson

(Copyright, 1950 By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

WASHINGTON.—President Truman and top advisers are about to uncork a pretty stiff bottle of defense medicine for the American people. It involves an unprecedented technique for arming America without putting the country into a complete economic strait jacket.

The program has been decided at a series of ultrasecret meetings of Stuart Symington's National Security Resources Board, now charged with over-all responsibility for war preparedness. Here's what it involves:

1. MORE MONEY—Truman will ask Congress for an additional $19,000,000,000 in the next 30 days, bringing the budget up to $54,000,000,000 for defense alone.

2. FEW CONTROLS—Price and wage controls will be delayed as long as possible, probably until next spring on all but a few short materials. These include steel and aluminum. Meanwhile, Symington is personally cracking the whip on both labor and management to keep prices down.

NOTE—The Ford Motor Company immediately accepted Symington's suggestion that it not increase prices. Symington also arranged secretly for Truman to call CIO President Philip Murray and soft-pedal the steelworkers' demands for a wage hike; so a new round of steel price boosts would be prevented.

3. MORE FACTORIES—Truman advisers are convinced that a wartime preparedness program can be built right alongside our peacetime economy without pinching the American people too sharply, chiefly by plant expansion.

4. HEAVY TAXES—The administration plans to control inflation by an almost ruthless tax program plus vigorous credit controls. The Treasury Department headed by timid Secretary John Snyder is dragging its feet on this, but the Federal Reserve Board, plus Symington and the President's economic advisers, are now urging a 100 per cent excess-profits tax as well as sharply increased corporate taxes to finance defense on a pay-as-you-go basis.

Prize Bureaucrat
Symington fully expects to wind up being the nation's most unpopular bureaucrat, and a phone call he got the other day from Speaker Sam Rayburn in Bonham, Texas, indicates that he is on the way. Sam was complaining about the new credit controls.

"Last month," said the speaker, "200 cars were sold down here in Bonham. This month, thanks to credit controls, the number sold was only five."

"How big is Bonham?" Symington asked.
"Eight thousand, five hundred," replied the speaker.

"Well, 200 cars a month is too many for a city of that size," argued Symington.

He went on to explain, however, that he did not want to cut auto sales to zero, only wanted to strike a happy medium. And he is genuinely concerned lest credit controls mop up surplus cash too fast. He doesn't want to drive the country into a recession by curtailing buying power before defense spending takes up the slack, and estimates that the main defense spending will be felt shortly after Christmas.

More Steel Mills
Most important part of the new plan is for large-scale building of new factories, following which defense spending and peacetime economy can continue side by side. To that end there will be a 25 per cent increase in steel production, a doubling of aluminum production, and a big increase in electric-power capacity.

Prior to Pearl Harbor, a committee of experts headed by Gano Dunn of the J. G. White Engineering Co., recommended against any increase in steel production. It feared idle blast furnaces after the war.

As a result of this recommendation the ensuing steel shortage forced the American public to forego automobiles, refrigerators and other steel products during the war. And, since the war, instead of having idle blast furnaces, the steel industry has been running at full capacity, with U. S. Steel earning the highest profits in history.

With the world's population rapidly increasing, Symington predicts the same thing will happen again.

NOTE—Real father of the new program is Leon Keyserling, head of the President's council of economic advisers. He feels that the U.S.A. cannot be turned into an economic dictatorship by too many controls, too much bureaucracy. Sufficient plant expansion to handle both civilian needs and war needs, he says, is the alternative.

Silent Filibuster
Nevada's Republican Sen. George W. Malone, darling of the slot-machine racketeers and the copper trust, set quite a record for himself when he hogged nearly 61 pages of the 163-page appendix of the October 20 congressional record.

Malone inserted 47 items totaling 1,687-1/2 column inches, for a total of 60.8 pages, 37 per cent of the total. At a printing cost of $82 per page, the Nevada spent $498.56 of the taxpayers' money to make a wide variety of insertions. The longest, titled "Copper, a Symbol," ate up 14-1/2 pages; the shortest, his own statement asserting that Dean Acheson (secretary of state) is trying to oust General MacArthur, consumed 4-1/2 column inches.

Smear Tactics of '50 Campaign Are Ill-Adapted to the Times

By Bruce Blossat

Few voters will be able to recall a political campaign worse than 1950 for name-calling, mud-slinging and outright misrepresentation.

To be sure, the electorate has long since grown used to the exaggerations of standard American campaign oratory. If people didn't discount them heavily, they often couldn't conscientiously vote for anybody at all.

Yet this year's spectacle of candidates for high office hurling mud by the bucketful and lacerating each other's character is a sorry one indeed. It's hard to see how voters could wholly discount all the things that have been said.

The caliber of campaigning has been particularly bad in New York, Ohio, Oklahoma and to some extent, California. Candidates have dubbed each other thieves, bums, fakers, grafters, unmitigated liars and Communists.

In Pennsylvania, one nominee for high office was chided by his opponent for saying something publicly about him that he knew wasn't true. The candidate replied: "If I say something and you don't deny it, that means it's true."

What better measure could you ask of the low level to which political morals have fallen?

You can't help wondering what has led politicians to conclude that these shrill cries of wolf are effective campaign tactics. The voters certainly have seldom shown any love for this kind of politicking. In New York, for instance, a newspaper quoted one citizen as being so disgusted by the catcalling that he was tempted to write his own name on the ballot.

Perhaps these extreme charges reflect an inner tension that runs through all of us in these troubled times. Critical issues beget violent feelings, and people in such a mood will pick up any weapon they can find.

The Republicans, for their part, are smarting severely under a long series of reverses in presidential campaigns. Many of their standard-bearers are apparently willing to use any strategy they think might pay off. They're in a near-desperate frame of mind.

On the other hand, long tenure in power at Washington seems to have made the Democrats increasingly intolerant of their opposition. They characterize their opponents as "stupid" or "miserable" and act as if there were only one possible point of view in this world.

Both these attitudes are ill-adapted to the times. This is a moment for sober reflection to vital questions. There is wide room for legitimate differences of opinion among honest, sincere men. Some of these differences ought to crystallize as firm party policies between which voters can fairly choose.

To deflect voters' minds into countless irrelevant sidepaths, as was done in the 1950 campaign, is to do them and the country a vast disservice. Democracy is on trial in many quarters of the world. It can't indefinitely stand being discredited here in its American stronghold—as it was discredited this year.

Russia Would Like to See U. S. Waste Its Strength in Korea

A prime reason why the United States hopes to avoid being embroiled in all-out war with Red China is that Russia might then have a free hand to move in Europe.

Thus far in the Cold War, the Soviet Union has been extremely lucky in getting her satellites to stick their necks out. While the forces of puppet nations challenge the free world, the masters in the Kremlin sit back and watch, conserving their own armed strength against a greater day.

Meanwhile, the United States, France and Britain commit a large part of their available military power to "police actions" in Korea, Indo-China, and Malaya. Those forces are pinned down effectively, and cannot be counted upon for emergency use in vital Europe.

The two principal targets there, of course, are Germany and Yugoslavia. The Russians, taking advantage of French reluctance to accept sizable German units in a western European defense force, are punching hard on the "German unity" propaganda line. They're calling for "demilitarization" of Germany, which in practice would mean abandonment of that country to Russian-trained East German police who actually constitute a Russian army.

But since such demilitarization is unlikely to happen, it's obvious that it would take real Soviet armies to dislodge the West from Germany. And that attempt certainly wouldn't be made in the foreseeable future unless Allied forces were tied up elsewhere.

The same reasoning applies to Tito's Yugoslavia. Everything indicates that Tito has enough military strength—barring an economic collapse—to withstand any onslaught by a combination of Soviet satellite armies from Bulgaria, Rumania, Hungary and Albania. It will take Russian power to crush him. And that power isn't likely to be used so long as there is strong prospect it will be met by heavy assistance to Tito from the free nations.

Here lies the importance of keeping Chinese participation in the Korean fighting a strictly limited action, if that is at all possible. For this way we may keep a reserve at hand for use in Europe or other critical trouble spots.

Naturally, if the Chinese Reds are bent upon all-out war, we shall have it. There is no way to avert it if Mao Tse-tung decides to pour in perhaps 300,000 troops in an effort to push us clear off the Korean peninsula.

But we should not accept this outlook as inevitable until it is thoroughly clear that it is really that. For the consequences of complete embroilment in Asia would be desperately grave for the whole free world.

THE OWNER'S STAMP ALREADY THERE

We have seen that Christ is Owner whether we acknowledge that fact or not. The confession of that Ownership is being more and more wrung from reluctant lips. A doctor said to me: "More men get stomach ulcers from fear and worry than from resentments and anger. I suffer from a gastric ulcer. I used to get angry. I don't dare do that now, for I know where anger will hit me—in the stomach! Now when anyone is about to make me angry I simply turn on my heels and walk off." And then he quoted Dr. Harvey Cushing, the great surgeon who said: "Don't operate on the stomach of a man for stomach ulcer—operate on his head." He is worrying or harboring resentments. Dr. Taylor of Columbia, S.C., says: "I've never had a case of arthritis among Negroes, and never one among white people except among those who fear or are worried." "It will spring up out of the earth." Faith, good will, love are not something imposed; they are the things we are made for.

The Owner's stamp is there within you. Now take it by consent. Where shall I be branded? Paul says, "On my body." Perhaps you have had the Christian way painted on and not branded in. Therefore it has not stayed. You are given to the wayward, instead of to the Way; you are fickle, instead of fixed. Now this whole Way is about to be burned in, beginning at the body. Western civilization is body-minded, a sensate civilization, a civilization of the senses—that which can be touched, and tasted, and smelled. Say to one of our citizens, "This will hurt your soul," and he will reply, "So what?" But say, "This will give you a stomach ulcer," and he will sit up and take notice. Since we are body-minded, we will begin at the body: Stamp Thy mark, O Christ, in every brain cell, in every nerve, in every tissue, in my total physical life. I want to be branded.

This prayer upon our lips is simply the unspoken prayer of every portion of our beings—everything within us cries out to be Christian, for that is their destiny. Gracious Master, I shrink from the heat of Thine iron—the burning flesh makes me draw back. But I know that this warring, wobbling life must be at an end. I want something that will brand me forever, before God and man, that there shall be no mistaking of my identity any longer. Let the fire of Thy Spirit brand me forever Thine. Amen.

The Doctor Answers By Dr. Jordan

Written for NEA Service

Most people do not like to be physically conspicuous. They prefer not to be too fat, too thin, too short, or too tall. Sometimes, however, there is not much to be done about it.

Q—What do you think of retarding a child's growth? Our boy is 15 years old, six feet and three-quarters of an inch tall. Is there anything we can do to slow down his growth?—O. H.

A—There are many things which enter into growth, including what is inherited from the family, and the diet. In North America, the average youngster has been a little taller than his parents for several generations. Also growth does not occur at a regular rate, but rather in spurts. There is no known way of retarding growth, and yet it is quite possible that a boy will slow down in his growing and not be much taller in two or three years than most boys of his age and generation. At any rate, it is rather useless to worry about it.

Q—Recently, it was reported on the radio that a new and definite cure for angina pectoris has been discovered. Is this true, or is this just another rumour?—G. S.

A—I do not know of any new or absolute cure for angina pectoris. There are, however, several good methods of managing angina pectoris, and the outlook for most of those who suffer from this condition is by no means dismal. If and when a better method of treating angina is discovered, the medical profession will learn it promptly, and make it available to patients.

Q—I have been corresponding with a girl who was taken ill with a virus infection. Is there any danger that I will catch the infection from her letters or postcards?—Mrs. V. R.

A—No, the virus would not live long on paper.

Q—Sometimes ago you stated in a column that there have been favorable reports on a method of using sandpaper to help diminish ugly acne scar. Where can I get this treatment?—T. L. C.

A—The method referred to has been published in a medical journal. Whether it would be suitable in an individual case must be left to the discretion of the skin specialist who is consulted. So far as I know, it has only been tried in a few cases.

Q—Could a strain, caused by lifting, result in a man becoming sterile?—Reader.

A—No.

Q—Can a person have a blood clot in the brain without knowing it himself?—Reader.

A—Very small clots can develop in the blood vessels of the brain and produce no noticeable symptoms. For this reason the answer to your question is yes.

My sister has a lot of trouble with her hands. When she puts them in water, the skin cracks and peels. She has tried everything to keep the hands soft, but nothing seems to help. Can anything be done about this?—Mrs. E. R.

A—Many people have this kind of trouble. Assuming that your sister cannot keep her hands out of water, she could try wearing rubber gloves—or if she is sensitive to rubber (which is not uncommon)—some kind of plastic glove. It is also possible that her skin is sensitive to the particular soap used, so that she could try many different brands of soap, or some of the cleaning detergents which are made of different ingredients than most soaps.

NOTE ON QUESTIONS
Dr. Jordan is unable to answer directly individual questions from readers. However, once a week, in this "Q & A" column he will answer the most interesting and the most frequently asked questions received during the week.

Let the Cobbler Stick to His Last

HE CAME TO KILL by ADELINE McELFRESH Copyright 1950 by NEA Service, Inc.

THE STORY: When Aunt Maggie Thorne is murdered, suspicion points to her nephew Peter. Peter gives Leana, the victim's grandniece, a lavatory which his sister-in-law Sandra was supposed to have stolen. Then Peter admits he went to kill Aunt Maggie but found her dead. That night Peter disappears. His note to Leana says: "Tomorrow you'll know the truth."

XXIII

AT midnight they had not found Peter. It had been raining since 10:30 and now, as Leana paced worriedly up and down the wide veranda, the steady drizzle accelerated into a bone-chilling, pelting storm. Shivering in spite of her close-buttoned sports coat, Leana thought of men from the sheriff's office, still determinedly beating the brush all over the rugged Thorne estate.

What did they hope to find? Surely Peter, with his innate love of comfort, would not let himself be miserably cold and wet, surely he wouldn't take to the woods. Not voluntarily.

But what if—Leana thought again of the note.

Peter was desperate. He must have been, she reasoned, or he would not have disappeared as he had.

They had found Jasper, or at least they knew he was in Thorne City. He had flagged a bus at the foot of the hill and, the girl at the bus station said, had gone across the street and into the theater, the one where Lana Turner's new picture was being shown.

She pulled her coat closer against the cold that seemed to press damply about her and resumed her pacing, up and down, past the lighted windows of the living room where Miss Aggie and Leana sat on opposite sides of the fireplace, pointedly ignoring each other. Sandra was deep in a magazine, or appeared to be; Miss Agatha just sat there, looking into nothingness.

Sandra had been loud in her defense of her absent husband and angrily sincere. And convincing. She had flung accusation after accusation into Sheriff Clem Purdy's teeth and he had spit them back at her, badly mangled. But Sandra had won; they had let Jasper alone to enjoy his movie in precarious freedom and had gone on searching for Peter at Thorne Hill.

That had been another victory for Sandra.

Why not look for him here? she had demanded. Was there evidence that he had gone somewhere else?

There was not, Purdy had to admit. The cars were in the garage. Peter's clothes were all in his closet. Not even an overcoat was gone, or a raincoat. And the whole thing was puzzling—and sinister.

"Nothing," Leana asked. "Nothing." He echoed her despair. "I can't understand it, unless—Look, Miss Leana. You've been with these people lately. You've had a chance to know them. What do you make of it?" "Peter's dead."

THE whispering wind, moaning through the rainswept trees and under the eaves of the big old house, caught the words and flung them out on the cold, accusing night. Leana could feel the sheriff's shock, his disbelief.

"Why do you say that?" Leana looked at the sheriff. In the reflected light from the house his face showed nothing. Only his voice was tired. She said, "I don't know. I—I shouldn't have said it, but it—it just slipped out. I didn't even think it, not really."

Purdy digested that in silence for a long moment, then:

"The note?" "Did Peter write it?" Leana countered.

"Well—I—I," the sheriff drawled, uncertainty sapping his suspicion. Leana said quickly, "It was written hurriedly, perhaps by Peter. But it might have been left there by someone else."

"Peter's murderer?" the sheriff said quietly.

"And Miss Maggie's."

Again that silence that so narrowly missed being hostile.

Quickly she told him. Words spilled over each other, their individual meaning being supplemented by fresh-loosed terror.

That one thought kept going through her mind with maddening precision, dodging in and out among the things she told the sheriff. She didn't know Peter was dead. This might be another of his beastly cunning tricks. Peter was like that—clever. Leana jerked away from the sheriff's solicitous grip.

"He's running away!" she cried. "That's it! He said all those things to fool me. He knew I'd tell you—we've reached the point where we'll believe anything, all of us! We—"

"Now, wait up," Purdy, one hand on the doorknob, interrupted her sharply. "You're too fast for me, but maybe you're right."

He headed for the telephone, leaving Leana to close the door.

THEN, as she stood there hearing Purdy bark orders to send out a general alarm for Peter Thorne, she was conscious again of the mental mosquito that had plagued her before. What was it, why should it nibble at her sureness now, that Peter was the murderer? The old fear rippled up her spine and, as the sheriff hung up and she took her eyes from his broad back, she saw Sandra, standing like a pale, silent ghost in the doorway.

"What—what is it?" she barely whispered.

She came forward slowly, moving like someone in a nightmare. Leana started to her, and stopped. It was Purdy who explained.

"That," he half-gestured toward the telephone, "was the state police. I asked them to send out an alarm for Peter—for murder. We—Miss Leana thinks—Mrs. Thorne—"

He sprang forward, but he was too late. Sandra had slumped to the floor in a dead faint.

Looking Backward Forty Years Ago

Late returns from the seventh congressional district showed the election of Courtney W. Hamlin, of Springfield, Mo., over Holmes Hall, of Sedalia, for congressman by a plurality sufficient to impel Mr. Hall to concede his defeat. (The seventh district is now known as the sixth.)

The Sedalia Booster club Thursday evening held its first annual banquet at Hotel Huckins at which three minute talks were given by John T. Stinson, E. E. Coddins, A. L. Pringle, C. C. Lawson, W. M. Johns, J. W. Mellor, Dr. W. J. Ferguson and C. C. Kelly, who followed the address of the evening by A. D. Stanley, business manager of the Sedalia Democrat-Sentinel.

Lee Looney and Herman Kirchofer killed thirty-three quail and three rabbits in hunting south of Sedalia Thursday.

Harry Yanow, of Albuquerque, N. M., returned there following a business visit in Sedalia.

Harry L. Moore, mail transfer clerk of the railway mail service here, resigned to re-enter service on the road as a mail clerk.

By Ruth Millett Maybe 'Stingy' Husband Is Only Worried About Security

She thinks her husband is stingy because it's hard to get money from him and he complains about how much she spends on groceries and other necessities.

Maybe he is stingy, or it could be that the high cost of living has him just plain scared. A wife ought to make sure it's the first and not the second reason before she blames her husband for being close-fisted.

One way she can tell, of course is by what he does with the money he holds back. If he spends money freely on himself or wastes it in other ways while begrudging his wife everything he has to give her for running the house, then he is stingy.

But if he is trying to build up a little security for the family with the money he holds on to, then it's a different matter. Probably all that is needed is for the wife to sympathize with his aims and let him know she wants to try to help him.

Let Him Find Out Himself
Once she has convinced him of that she can probably also educate him a bit about the cost of running a home. It she takes him marketing with her or has him buy a week's supply of groceries, he may still grumble about the cost, but he won't blame it on his wife's extravagance.

Generosity is a quality in a husband on which women sometimes put too high a value. The husband who never puts any curb on his wife's spending may be doing her a real injustice if by indulging her today he fails to provide for their future.

So don't accuse a man of stinginess just because he seems overly concerned about money. He may be stingy, but it's quite possible he may just be trying to build up enough financial security so that he can get rid of the constant worry about what would happen if he lost his job, got laid up for a while, or if old age found him with nothing put aside for his own and his wife's last years.

Sunday School Lesson

BY WILLIAM E. GILROY, D. D. and still are, within its own sphere.

A best-selling book of recent years told how to make friends and influence people. It has been related to the attainment of what is called success but the problem of getting on well with others is one of the oldest and most acute problems of humanity.

Around the problem are histories of unhappiness and strife. Here and there, however, shine noble stories concerning those who have achieved happiness and rewarding friendship through the happiness they have brought to others.

Throughout the Bible, and particularly in the Psalms and Proverbs, the topic of human relations is touched upon with a wisdom that might well counsel our society of today.

On the subject of enemies, the Hebrews wisely wrote, "Agree with thine adversary quickly; don't answer a fool according to his folly; a soft answer turneth away wrath." Such counsels indicate that even in their limited society, difficult relationships must have existed.

It has been a great tragedy of history that not only has religion failed to curb the quarrels and dissensions of man with man and nation with nation, reaching a climax of tyranny in the two world wars, and the threatened third, in the sphere of religion itself there has been bitter conflict, with intolerance of spirit, and the physical cruelty of dire and terrible persecution.

The greatest practical task of Christians would, therefore, seem to be to solve this problem of getting on well with others, and to purge religion itself of the curse and disgrace of the conflicts and bitter discussions that have been.

Religion - or What?

American religious leaders are insisting more and more that education can never be complete without religion. Religion alone gives man a true outlook on life and a right purpose in living. The only alternative to religion is the philosophy of Godless materialism. Without religion man tends to degenerate into a creature without dignity and—worse still—without hope.

Religion teaches that man is a child of God; that he was created to be united one day to God in an eternity of happiness. Religion preserves man's individuality. It injects romance and high adventure into lives which otherwise might be dull and meaningless. It is the bridge between man and God.

Consider what it would mean to live in a world where materialism had ousted religion. Instead of being a creature with an immortal soul, a man would be just a pair of hands for a factory or farm, or a brain trained to rigid and unquestioning conformity. He would be nothing more than a cog in an industrial machine, an automaton schooled only to obey, a nobody lost in the crowd. He would have no right to speak or act save only as the system under which he lived thought proper and expedient. Without hope, suicide would seem the only way out of his totalitarian enslavement.

Millions of people already live in a materialist society shaped by God-denying and God-hating Communists. Many of these people still cherish the seeds of faith handed down to them by their forebears. But the others—mostly the young and deluded—have embraced the totalitarian way of life without question, never having known anything else. The tragedy is they may never perceive how deeply they have been betrayed and hurt.

There is horror in the thought of millions going through the motions of empty living. They marry, they breed, they work, they die. Even before the clay covers their remains they are forgotten, their places taken by others whose lives will run along the same drab, meaningless pattern. That is materialism at its full potentiality in the totalitarian order.

Where there is religion there may also be trial, grief and disappointment, injustice and hardship. But never a kind of living that is worse than death. Men must expect life to be hard and bitter at times. But where there is religion, they can hope in God's providence, knowing that all things work unto good with God. They may be unimportant and unsuccessful, as the world judges people. But in their souls they can become the choicest of God's elect, rejoicing even on earth in His living and sustaining friendship.

Move Be Sought For The Schools

JEFFERSON CITY, Nov. 10.—(P)—The State Department of Education wants almost $10,000,000 more from the next legislature to operate Missouri public schools.

The department proposed today a total appropriation of $90,451,826 for the 1951-52 fiscal period. That is $9,477,500 more than the last legislature appropriated for two years.

The last legislature allotted one-third of the state's general revenue, or $75,048,829 for education. Then it appropriated an extra $5,000,000 from surplus funds.

Next year the Department of Education estimates the amount from one-third of the general revenue will be $74,666,666. And it wants the legislature to supplement that with an extra appropriation of $15,381,080.

Practically all of the extra money would go directly to school in the form of state aid.

The new estimates were presented in a department pamphlet crammed with figures on expanding school needs. According to these statistics, higher appropriations next year would be only the beginning.

For example, total enrollment this year is estimated at 625,231. By 1955-56, based on a study of the birth rate, total enrollment is expected to climb to 746,824, or 147,600 more than there were in 1947-48.

Since it costs about $16,000 to build one room for 30 pupils, it would take $78,720,000 just to house the new students expected by 1955.

The body was at the McLaughlin chapel until time for the services.

Vote To Kelly Is Cut Down

DETROIT, Nov. 10.—(P)—Republican Harry F. Kelly's election lead was pared to about 1,000 votes today in a frantic battle of ballots in Michigan's race for governor.

Theoretically the election was over Nov. 7. But as corrected returns piled in, it was increasingly evident that nothing could be determined until official canvass—and probably a recount.

Kelly's lead, held to be about 6,000 as the counting was finished originally, melted before the corrected figures.

Picking up 3,196 votes in a whopping Wayne county correction and adding more in other outstate changes, Governor C. Mennen Williams was gaining steadily in revised figures.

The actual Kelly margin was clouded in doubt. With the figures changing faster than they could be recorded, it was placed from 813 to 1369.

And generally the trend was down as county after county reported corrections in favor of the Democrats.

Carthage Press To New Building

CARTHAGE, Mo., Nov. 10.—(P)—This will be a big week-end for the Carthage Press.

E. L. Dale, editor and publisher, and his staff have moved into their brick and Carthage stone building from the old plant which was the home of the daily newspaper for 63 years.

For the next three days, Editor Dale and his staff will be busy with a round of open houses for the home folks and visiting editors from other Missouri cities.

Following open houses at the plant tonight and tomorrow, the Press will be host Sunday and Monday to the members of the Associated Dailies of Missouri.

The new building has two floors and a full basement with 8,000 square feet of floor space on each. Included among the new equipment is a new press which was placed in operation this week.

Convicted As Spies For Russia

FRANKFURT, Germany, Nov. 10.—(P)—Two Germans were convicted today of conspiring to spy for Russia.

They were sentenced by a U. S. District court to two years in prison.

The court convicted Hermann Cossman, 29-year-old Wiesbaden lumber dealer, of transmitting to Russian agents information "which might be dangerous to the security of Allied forces."

Dr. Guenther Scholz, 40-year-old Wiesbaden chemist, was convicted of giving Cossman maps of a U. S. Army Ordnance depot which he obtained while working for the U. S. High Commission in Germany.

Three Dead In Plane Wreck

NORWOOD, Mass., Nov. 10.—(P)—Three persons, including the daughter of an airplane designer who long had advocated greater safety elements for light aircraft, were found today in the wreckage of their small plane.

The victims were: Miss Justine Koppen, 29, daughter of Dr. Otto K. Koppen, aeronautical engineer at Massachusetts Institute of Technology; Wesley Brackett, 29, a flying instructor, and Richard Nelson, 27.

The trio left Norwood airport last night at 7 o'clock and failed to return. The plane was found in swampland near the airport.

Miss Koppen received her pilot's license only last year.

Held as Suspect In Murder

WICHITA, Kas., Nov. 10.—(P)—Police today were holding Lee Johnson, 31, for the Kansas Bureau of Investigation, which they said had issued a warrant charging him with murder and armed robbery.

Detective Capt. R. B. Price said the man's wife, Ora E. Johnson, 43, also was held, both at the request of W. F. Cowan, special KBI agent.

Price quoted Cowan as saying three men had been arrested yesterday in the connection with the robbery in the Bagdad club near Joplin, Mo., in which a patron of the club was fatally shot.

Warrants charging Johnson with participation in the robbery and shooting, and his wife as an accessory, were to be served by the KBI here today, Price said.

The detective said he learned from Cowan that two other men wanted in connection with the Bagdad club robbery were arrested yesterday at Eureka and Chanute, Kas.

Big Gain For Job Placements

JEFFERSON CITY, Nov. 10.—(P)—Boomtime days are here again for almost anyone who wants a job in Missouri.

The State Employment Security division reported today it placed 14,659 persons in non-farm jobs during October. That was an increase of 4.1 per cent over September and 92.3 per cent over October, 1949.

For the first ten months this year, non-farm job placements totaled 99,609, a gain of 30,715 of 44.6 per cent over the same period last year.

Charles A. Ricker, director, said skilled production workers are most needed in St. Louis and Kansas City. He urged outstate workers to get in touch with their nearest local employment service office before going to the cities.

Last month the agency also placed 56,495 persons in farm jobs—mostly to work in the southeastern Missouri cotton harvest.

Stassen Looks To Policy Changes

ALLENSTOWN, Pa., Nov. 10.—(P)—Harold Stassen said last night that reelection of Sen. Robert A. Taft in Ohio indicates "labor leaders should go back to being labor leaders and not politicians."

He also interpreted the Ohioan's success in the face of an all-out labor drive to unseat him as "a vote to halt President Truman's socialist program."

Stassen, a GOP presidential aspirant and president of the University of Pennsylvania, made the statements in answer to a reporter's question on what policy the GOP would follow after Taft's victory in Ohio.

"After all, it is obvious that laboring men went ahead and voted as they pleased, regardless of their leaders," Stassen said.

"The Republican party must accept its new obligations with humility and foresight. The party must plan its future from all the Republican results across the nation."

Lopez Goes To Cleveland

CLEVELAND, Nov. 10.—(P)—Al Lopez, Indianapolis Indians manager for the past three years, today was named manager of the Cleveland Indians for the next two seasons.

The salary terms were said to be the highest ever paid a non-playing Cleveland pilot.

Ellis Ryan, president of the Cleveland Indians, stunned a conference of news men who came expecting to hear that Lou Boudreau had been named to a tenth year as manager.

Ryan said the decision on Lopez had been made after the end of the 1950 season, but could not be announced earlier.

Ryan declared: "We have often stated that we would not consider replacing Lou Boudreau unless we were able to obtain the services of a man who we felt might do a better job. In our minds there was only one man who met these requirements and he was not immediately available."

"That man is Al Lopez, the new manager for the Indians for 1951 and 1952."

Disrupt Service To Newspaper

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Nov. 10.—A severed telephone cable, whacked in two with an axe, today disrupted telephone and teletype service to the Springfield News-Papers, Inc., and Radio station KGBX.

The cable was cut on a telephone pole, eight feet above the ground, at the north side of the newspaper plant. The sabotage severed 149 of the 150 pairs of wires in the cable, leaving only a telephone in the mailing room open for service.

H. W. Ehrler, district manager of the Southwestern Bell Telephone company, announced a $1,000 reward for arrest and conviction of the cable cutters.

He said the perpetrators had "utter disregard for public welfare."

Partial service was restored this morning, but officials of the telephone company said it would be late tonight or tomorrow before full service would be in effect.

No one saw the cable being cut. Presses in the building were in operation at the time and some editorial personnel were on duty.

Deadlock Over Use of The Ruhr

By Brack Curry
FRANKFURT, Germany, Nov. 10.—(P)—The western allies—particularly the U. S. and France—are deadlocked over how to use Western Germany's vast Ruhr industrial valley for western defense.

Authoritative sources said today that American, British and French officials in Germany have failed to agree in six weeks of negotiations on how controls over West German steel production will be relaxed.

The whole matter may be deferred back to the three governments, the sources said.

The western foreign ministers last September ordered the Allied high commission to allow the Germans to produce steel over the allied ceiling of 1,100,000 tons annually. The extra steel would be used for western defense.

The high commission was to determine what part of Germany's output went for defense.

Since September allied officials in Germany have made no progress on this decision, the sources said.

Orders for West German steel meanwhile are pouring into Ruhr plants from American and Western Europe as the western rearmament program mounts. Allied authorities said production already has soared to an annual rate of 13,000,000 tons—almost 2,000,000 tons over the allied ceiling.

But the allied deadlock over carrying out the foreign ministers' steel decision has left the Germans in this predicament:

Will the steel now being produced for export to the west be considered as a contribution to western defense? If it is not, the Germans might have to cut back production to keep under the Allied production ceiling.

Authoritative sources here said the deadlock on this point has been caused by differences between America and France.

CHARITY, Mo., Nov. 10.—(P)—A fire swept through a frame house here yesterday, burning two small children to death.

They were Linda May Potter, 3, and George Potter, 2. They were the children of Mr. and Mrs. Ray P. Potter.

Another child, 10-months-old Ruth Ann Potter, was rescued by the mother and reported in good condition today at a Springfield hospital.

The father was at work and Mrs. Potter was at the home of a nearby neighbor when the blaze started. Mrs. Potter looked out the window to see her frame home afire. She rushed home in time to save the infant but the other two children were trapped.

Heavy Snow in Colorado

A driving nine-inch snowfall made a mockery of Colorado's long Indian Summer with its record warm weather. It created one of the worst traffic jams in Denver history as it piled streets and drifted around stalled and parked automobiles. This was a typical scene at Denver, where the snow drifted heavily on cars and shrubbery. (AP WIREPHOTO)

A defense department announcement said Secretary Marshall had recommended her appointment to President Truman. It said she would specialize in manpower and personnel policies in addition to performing duties of assistant secretary.

Gen. Marshall recommended that she be named to succeed Paul H. Griffith, a former commander of the American Legion, whose resignation was submitted in September. Griffith took office during the administration of Louis Johnson, whom General Marshall succeeded.

Mrs. Rosenberg is a public member of the committee on mobilization policy of the National Security Resources Board and a special consultant on manpower problems to W. Stuart Symington, chairman of NSRB.

Since 1935 Mrs. Rosenberg has served in a number of government positions.

Warren Wins By Over Million

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 10—(P)—Republican Gov. Earl Warren defeated Democrat James Roosevelt by over a million votes in California's gubernatorial election—and the returns aren't all in. Results from 17,234 of the 18,408 precincts magnified the governor's third term victory over the son of the late president. The vote:

Warren 2,253,276; Roosevelt 1,229,247.

Warren's amazing margin approached his total vote of 1,367,612 in 1946, when he had both major party nominations and thus got the bulk of the Democratic as well as the Republican vote.

Governors Plan To Resign For Senate Seats

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10—(P)—Three governors who were elected to the Senate in Tuesday's election said today that they plan to resign to take their new seats in the present congress.

Governor Frank Carlson of Kansas, Earl C. Clements of Kentucky and John O. Pastore of Rhode Island were elected to succeed a trio of senators they appointed last year to fill unexpired terms.

Each of them said he intends to take his senate seat in the post-election session of congress scheduled to start Nov. 27.

Whether they resign in time to be sworn in at the start of the November session, they said, will depend upon how quickly the official returns are canvassed and they receive their election certificates.

Carlson will succeed Senator Darby, whom he appointed to fill the vacancy caused by the death of the late Senator Clyde M. Reed. Carlson was elected to complete Reed's term, expiring this year, and also for a new six-year term.

Similarly, Clements was elected to finish out a short term and for a full term. He will replace Senator Withers, whom he appointed to take Vice President Barkley's seat in the senate.

Pastore also said he intends to resign and be sworn in as a senator during the present congress, although he may be delayed because the counting of absentee war ballots does not begin in Rhode Island until December 5. He will succeed Senator Leahy, whom he appointed to fill out the term of Howard McGrath.

Jail Empty First Time For Years

Pettis County's jail was empty for the first time in years, at noon Thursday when Leo J. Kerwin was released from jail, Sheriff John Taylor announced. "But," said Sheriff Taylor, "I don't anticipate it will be empty too long, because it is becoming too comfortable, especially at this time of the year."

Clark Woolery, deputy sheriff and jailer, reported it was the first time the jail has been empty since Sheriff Taylor took office, but that isn't because arrests haven't been made. There have been plenty.

Sheriff Taylor in discussing the situation explained it isn't costing the county a lot of money for feed bills, and other necessities when prisoners are in the jail. It was explained that the majority of arrests lately of violators of the law have been such when pleas have been made and fines assessed, the fines and costs of the cases have been paid by defendants and it hasn't been necessary to commit offenders to the jail.

During the "slack" new electric wiring has been installed and new light fixtures placed in the jail proper and the living quarters of Mr. and Mrs. Woolery in the front of the building as extra precaution for safety.

Colored Press

TEL AVIV—(P)—Israel has the most "colored" press of the world—as far as the paper is concerned. With the hard currency shortage and import restrictions, publishers struggle with the newsprint they need from shipload to shipload. Sometimes the paper which arrives is green, blue or pink. "Capitalist" opinions may have to be voiced on red paper while the Communists are not immune against the danger of appearing as a sort of "yellow press."

Mexico Falls Before Tiger Scoring Spree

Bengals Run Wild In Second Half To Win, 34-0

The Smith-Cotton Tigers plowed under an over-rated Missouri Military Academy Colonel team Thursday night at Liberty Park before a meager crowd of cold Sedalians, by a 34-0 score. Leading at the half by a slim margin of 6-0, the Bengals tore into the Mexico boys with real vigor in the final two periods and tallied 28 points by hard running, good passing and taking advantage of every mistake the military boys made.

The Tigers still haven't won a toss and they again kicked to start the game. Gavin took Ford's kick on the MMA 20 yard line and ran it back to his own 42 before being stopped. After one first and ten the Bengals dug in and forced the Cadets to punt. S-C ran up two first and tens, but were unable to score before the quarter ended. Bill Arnold received a painful shoulder injury midway the first frame and didn't see any action the rest of the night.

Conley Starts Scoring
Art Conley tallied the first Tiger touchdown with his off tackle slant that went from 11 yards to give the locals a six point lead. Keenes attempt for the conversion failed. The Bengals had another scoring drive started, but a fumble on the Mexico 13 yard line halted any possible scoring before the half ended.

With the Tigers receiving the kick-off, which bounced out of bounds on the 15, Keenes ran 50 yards on the second play from scrimmage in the second half to put the Bengals on the MMA 35. Burton, McCrary and Conley carried the ball for consistent gains to the four where Delbert 'Whitey' Bryant plunged over. Bryant moved from guard to tailback to score his first TD of the year. Art Conley smashed through guard for the extra point.

Shawver Scores On Pass
It was a matter of minutes before Smith-Cotton had possession of the pig-skin again. Starting on the visitors 45 Keenes and Conley did most of the ball carrying to the 25. Keenes then flipped a flat pass to Shawver on the 20 and "Big Bob" out ran the MMA defenders the remaining distance. Conley again ran the point after touchdown. The third quarter ended with the Tigers on the Cadet 22.

Conley carried to the 17 and McCrary picked up seven to put the ball on the 10. Floyd Burton, then sliced through tackle for the fourth Tiger score and Keenes to Shawver was good for the extra point and a 27-0 lead for S-C.

Buso's Debut Sensational
The final score of the night was a 30 yard overhead heave by Keenes to Dick Buso. Buso was covered by two men and went high into the air to pull down the towering pass. It was the first touchdown the reserve sophomore end has ever made in a varsity game. Keenes added the point after touchdown from placement with Bob Shawver holding.

Bob Miller, the Phillies' pitcher who jumped from Terre Haute to a pennant winner in one year, was second with five votes. Danny O'Connell, Pittsburgh shortstop, had four votes, pitcher Bubba Church of the Phils two votes and third baseman Bill Serena of Chicago one vote. One writer failed to turn in a most valuable ballot.

Foiled Rickey
Last spring they thought Branch Rickey had sold a "lemon" when he peddled Jethroe from his Brooklyn farm club to Montreal to Boston. Jethroe failed to impress during spring training. His hitting was off and his throwing was poor.

Once the bell rang, Jethroe started to go for a sensational first half season. Until he was injured in July he had stolen 24 bases, 18 of them in a 33-game span, and was hitting .286 in 75 games. After he returned to the lineup he never regained his stride. Jethroe finished with .273 in 141 games. He had 159 hits, 18 homers and drove in 58 runs.

Quail Season Opened Today

Hunters To Enjoy Best Bird Season In Recent Years

JEFFERSON, CITY, Nov. 10.—(P)—Dog and man were together today in Missouri for the opening of 1950's 52-day quail season.

The state conservation commission predicted today the season would be one of Missouri's best—there's as good or better a Bobwhite crop than there was last year and it was considered a dinger.

Recent heavy rains, high winds and freezing temperatures have combined to knock down much of the weedy undergrowth and get rid of dusty particles that would have hampered the dog's job.

Dogs Will Work Better
Pointers and Setters will be able to cover the fields better and the hunters won't have such a slow time following.

And that long warm period in September and October gave the birds a good chance to catch up. The wet spring made many hatches late. But even summer-end hatches are in full flying feather now, conservationists said.

Cool weather will help the city hunters and the unworked dogs get used to those long runs through the fields, too. Their tongues will hang out from fatigue but not from high temperatures.

Aid To Duck Hunters

Duck hunters will revel in the opening of the quail season, also. It will get some of the gunners off the rivers, lakes and sloughs. That's one place where a fellow doesn't appreciate a lot of competition.

Quail season ends Dec. 31. Daily and possession limits are ten quail.

Spotlight In Grid Games To The West

Big Ten's Choice For Rose Bowl Still Puzzle

By Will Grimsley

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—(AP)—If it were a prize fight, the authorities wouldn't allow it. But it's football, so harmless little New Mexico will take popgun popshots tomorrow at mighty, top-ranking Army.

The odds makers refuse even to quote figures on this bantam-heavyweight match at West Point's Michie stadium. Dudley Degroot's Lobos have won two games and lost five by top-sided scores. Army, riding a 26-game unbeaten streak, has crushed six foes.

The spotlight, then, shifts from the No. 1 team in the country to the middle west and Pacific coast where titanic struggles are expected to clarify the Rose Bowl picture.

The headline attraction is at Berkeley, Calif., where the unbeaten, untied Golden Bears of California clash with the single wing precisionists of UCLA.

Pappy Waldorf's Californians have accumulated 31 straight victories in regular season play—punctuated by two Rose Bowl defeats—and are shooting for their third straight Pasadena bid. If they lick UCLA, they're almost sure to get it.

The Uclans have been rated by Waldorf as the "best team we meet all year." They have dropped close decisions to Washington and Illinois but, outside of that, have scored five whopping victories.

The Big Ten's representative in the Rose Bowl remains pretty much of a puzzle with Ohio State, recognized as the loop's outstanding team, ineligible to make a return trip west.

Wisconsin and Illinois are figured to have the inside track at the moment and both have important conference games on tap. The once-beaten Wisconsin Badgers play Ohio State at Columbus. Illinois meets Iowa at Iowa City.

Wisconsin can lose to Ohio State, the country's No. 2 team, and still qualify because it plays a seven-game schedule while Illinois and Michigan play only six. Illinois meets Vic Janowicz and the frightening Buckeyes Nov. 18 and almost certainly must win to get the bid. Michigan, which still has a chance, plays Indiana Saturday.

Be Grudge Duel
The midlands offer another top-flight game in the old grudge duel between Oklahoma and Kansas at Lawrence, with the Jayhawkers out to settle a score with the third-ranking Sooners.

Oklahoma, with a modern record winning streak of 27 games, is rated a 14-point favorite although coach Bud Wilkinson says the team is at a "physical and psychological low."

The other members of the first ten are favored to come through their assignments, with the main trouble expected in the unpredictable southwest.

Kentucky, fourth-rated, plays Mississippi State at Starkville, Miss., and rules a 20-point choice because of the passing of Babe Parilli.

Texas, No. 5 and conqueror of Southern Methodist last week, tangles with Baylor at Waco, Texas, while SMU, which dropped to seventh behind California, tackles rugged Texas A. and M. at Dallas.

Southwesterners wouldn't be greatly surprised to see both Texas and SMU lose to their underdog neighbors.

Princeton, emerging as one of the powers of the East, puts its perfect record to little risk against Harvard, which has yet to win a game. The Tigers are No. 8.

Miami (Fla.), No. 9, goes after its seventh straight victory of the season against Louisville tonight at Miami, favored by three touchdowns. Illinois is the tenth team.

Besides the six unbeaten teams in the top ten—Army, Oklahoma, Kentucky, California, Princeton and Miami—two other major elevens have perfect slates to defend. Wyoming will try to protect a perfect mark against Brigham Young, Loyola of California against Fresno State.

Notre Dame, which started on the road back last week against Navy, will play Pittsburgh at South Bend. Navy will entertain Tulane, one of the tough teams from the South.

Quitting Texas?

Eddie Waitkus Makes Year's Top Comeback

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—(AP)—

Baseball's "comeback of the year" award today went to Eddie Waitkus, the Philadelphia Phillies' fine first baseman, who escaped death by a narrow margin.

A crazed girl's rifle shot critically wounded the slender athlete on June 14, 1949. His life hung on a thread in the next few days. There were few who ever thought he would be back on a big league diamond.

But the courageous blond from Melrose, Mass., fought like a big leaguer, passed the crisis, and then started the long journey back. It was a grand comeback, one that helped inspire the Phils to go on to win their first National league pennant in 35 years.

Mize Is Runner-Up

Waitkus edged out Johnny Mize, slugging New York Yankee first baseman, by 11 votes in the Associated Press' "comeback" poll. Eddie was named on 90 ballots, Mize on 79. A total of 368 sports writers and sportscasters from coast to coast took part in the poll.

In all, 15 big leaguers were nominated for top comeback honors. Ewell Blackwell, righthanded pitching ace of the Cincinnati Reds, was third with 58 votes. He was followed by pitcher Johnny Sain of the Boston Braves, Joe DiMaggio of the Yankees and righthander Paul (Dizzy) Trout of Detroit, in that order.

Hearn Receives Mention

Others to receive backing included Jim Hearn, Sal Maglie and Eddie Stanky, New York Giants; Jim Konstanty and Richie Ashburn, Phils; Walter Dropo, Boston Red Sox; Earl Torgeson, Braves; Max Lanier, St. Louis Cards and Phil Masi, Chicago White Sox.

While Waitkus batted only .284 last season, his lowest mark in four years under the big top, in many respects, he enjoyed his best season. His old flawless self in the field, the mitt master, proved a life-saver to the rest of the infield with his error-saving scoops of errant throws. More than any member of the champion Phils, Ed was a wonderful influence on the young members of the famed "Whiz Kids."

Cherry to Resign As Texas Coach

AUSTIN, Tex., Nov. 10.—(AP)—

Blair Cherry announced Thursday he will resign at the end of this season as head football coach at the University of Texas.

Cherry issued a statement less than 24 hours after rumors began flying that he would quit. He had declined last night to confirm the stories.

COLUMN

By Tom Stone
(For Hal Boyle)

U. S. SEVENTH DIVISION HEADQUARTERS, Korea.—(P)—The Korean Reds had an ingenious aerial supply system that swung huge buckets of food and supplies over lofty mountains to troops 25 miles away.

It is an electrically operated conveyor system that carried enough stuff to keep thousands of soldiers eating every day.

The supply end of the revolving cable system was taken by an American patrol Tuesday about 10 miles east of Oungsan, a small settlement near a reservoir and warehouses in northeast Korea.

The operator was captured and tons of supplies were confiscated. They included 100 tons of rice, 100 tons of dried fish, 100 tons of soy beans, 25 tons of nitrate, 10 tons of barley, three tons of tea and two tons of rope.

A second patrol went after the unloading end of the conveyor system but found the Reds had abandoned positions there.

Capt. E. N. Anderson, 31, of 1713 Ferris St., Lawton, Okla., flew from one end of the conveyor system to the other. He reported:

"The conveyor resembled those at winter resorts to carry skiers to the top of the run, but these were a lot bigger.

"The towers, which look like oil derricks, were spaced about 500 yards apart and were perched on hill tops. The buckets rode along above the tree tops."

Anderson estimated that each bucket extending from revolving cables would "hold at least one hundred gallons."

An intelligence officer in division headquarters said the conveyor apparently was intended originally to haul lumber across the mountains.

He said it was similar to some in Japan.

Anderson said the conveyor extended north through enemy territory for several miles, then turned west and followed the south banks of the Ungi to another reservoir northwest of Pungsan.

The reconnaissance patrol which made the discovery was sent out from Pungsan, now in the hands of elements of the Seventh Division's Seventeenth Regiment combat team.

The intelligence officer said the conveyor had been in operation until it was captured by the Americans.

"It looks like some of those North Korean soldiers will go hungry now."

Casualties in Korea up to 28,235

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—(P)—United States Casualties of the Korean war rose to 28,235 through Nov. 3, the defense department announced Thursday. This was an increase of 625 over figures announced a week earlier.

The total includes 4,159 killed in action, 19,793 wounded and 4,283 missing.

The wounded total includes 492 who died of wounds, raising the total death figure to 4,655.

Of the number reported missing from the start of hostilities, 3,771 are listed as currently missing. This figure excludes 107 known prisoners of war, 500 men who have returned to military control and four known dead. These were all originally reported missing.

Total army casualties now number 24,565. The navy total is 286; the marine corps 3,185 and the air force is 199.

Missing Man is Re-elected Tuesday

HARTFORD CITY, Ind., Nov. 10.—(P)—A missing man was re-elected Blackford County Treasurer Tuesday.

Lester Hiser, a Democrat, received 2,460 votes, almost double the 1,251 given his only opponent, Prohibitionist Luther Brandt.

Hiser was missing since Oct. 11, when his burning truck was found on a country road near here. Examiners of the state board of accounts have reported there is a "substantial shortage" in his accounts.

The county commissioners have appointed Dennis Guy to serve the unexpired term, which will end Dec. 31.

Sprayed With Hay

The engine of this Missouri-Kansas-Texas railroad passenger train is draped with hay as it rests on the crushed wreckage of a truck after a grade crossing accident near Kansas City, Kas. The driver of the truck, A. L. Gilbert, 23, was killed. J. H. Wythe, the train engineer, said the truck had stalled at the crossing. The impact sent a cloud of hay and dust swirling 40 feet into the air as the speeding 12-car train hit the vehicle, loaded with five tons of alfalfa. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Telephone Workers Strike

Allies Advance; Opposition Light

Chinese Reds Mass Near The Korean Border

Diplomatic Action May Be Important As Actual Fighting

SEOUL, Korea, Nov. 9—(AP)—Allied ground forces probed forward cautiously against light opposition and carrier-based bombers struck heavily at communications facilities in North Korea today.

Otherwise the war appeared to be marking time while diplomats over the world pondered the delicate international situation.

Communist China has been requested to explain to the United Nations Security Council the presence of her troops in North Korea. A spokesman for General MacArthur estimated these forces at 60,000 with a like number in reserve just across the Yalu river boundary in Manchuria.

One high ranking U. S. Eighth Army staff officer estimated Nov. 4 that Chinese Communist reserves along the Manchurian-Korean border probably number 300,000. He added that two or three times that number—perhaps a million or more—were within "committing distance."

Chinese Russian Equipped
In Taipei, Formosa, Chinese Nationalist intelligence officers Thursday placed the number of Chinese Red Reserves in Manchuria at 150,000. These, they said, are Russian-equipped and are the Elite of Gen Lin Piao's Fourth Field Army.

MacArthur's spokesman likewise said the Chinese troops were well trained and disciplined. The presence of Chinese Red soldiers in North Korea now is conceded even by the Peiping government—which called them "volunteers."

Thus, U. N. observers concluded the ominous lull on fighting fronts was due to indecision rather than any lack of manpower on the part of the Communists.

U. S. Demand Expected
A demand from the United States for withdrawal of these Chinese troops is expected, together with a call upon all nations to withhold further assistance to the North Koreans.

A U. S. Eighth army staff officer said Thursday, "the war is now in a strange phase, in which diplomatic moves perhaps are as important as military moves."

In weather generally good despite a chilly overcast which presaged winter's approach, Superfortress and carrier-based craft hit Red communication lines and supply centers. Fighters shot down a Red jet and two propeller-driven Yaks.

Big Naval Strike
A Navy public information officer in Tokyo, without mentioning its size, called the raid by carrier planes "one of the biggest" naval strikes of the war.

The B-29s bombed the northeast coastal city of Chongjin and Pukchon in the northwest, while dive-bombers reported hits on two railroad bridges across the Yalu at Sinuiju, near the river's mouth in northwest Korea.

Pilots were under strict orders not to violate the Manchurian frontier by hitting the Manchurian ends.

Red China Crisis Heads Agenda

Reid Services To Be Held Saturday

Funeral services for the late Joseph W. Reid, whose body was found floating in the Liberty park lagoon Wednesday night, will be held at 9:00 o'clock Saturday morning in Sacred Heart church.

There will be no inquest in the death. Dr. Gordon Stauffacher, Pettis county coroner, said the death was due to drowning, and no inquest was necessary. The body was removed to the McLaughlin chapel where it will remain until the funeral hour.

In Sedalia Mr. Reid's death left his many friends dumfounded; no one could explain the tragedy. The explanation came Thursday in a note addressed to Charles L. Hanley, cashier of the Third National bank where Mr. Reid had been employed for the past 40 years.

"Dear Mr. Hanley: I regret leaving such a fine man as you have been."

"I am sure my mind has been slipping for quite a while. You will no doubt find some records messed up but nothing wrong other than carelessness."

"Wish I could stay."

Joe

For some time the health of Mr. Reid had been a source of great personal worry. While he seldom made mention of it to others, his general physical condition, eyesight in particular, was a great strain on him.

Mr. Reid was serving his twenty-fifth year as secretary of the Sedalia Lodge of Elks of which he had been a member for about 27 years. He was also treasurer of the Pettis County Democratic committee and former president of the Sedalia Park board.

For 40 years, Mr. Reid had been with the Third National bank. Starting with the bank when a student in Sedalia high school, he ultimately was promoted to assistant cashier. With the exception of a brief period during World War I, at which time he was in the armed services, he had been constantly with the bank.

He was the son of Mrs. Ida Reid, 1423 South Monticau avenue, and the late W. S. Reid, and was born in Sedalia November 3, 1892. He received his early education at the old Franklin and Prospect schools and graduated from the Sedalia high school.

September 7, 1918, he was married to Miss Elizabeth McEniry in Sedalia. Three children were born to this union, Mrs. John Eusterman, Mankato, Minn., Miss Betty Reid of St. Louis, and Miss Joan Reid of the family home.

Also surviving Mr. Reid are a sister and two brothers, Mrs. Ruby Cahill, 1423 South Monticau avenue, Jesse Reid of the family home, and James Reid of 1390 South Ohio avenue.

Mr. Reid was a member of the Sacred Heart Catholic church, and of the Holy Name Society.

Miss Betty Reid, her aunt, Miss Mary McEniry, and cousin, Charles J. Cotterman, all of St. Louis, arrived in Sedalia by automobile at an early hour Thursday.

US Has Serious, Direct Questions To Put To The Red Delegation

LAKE SUCCESS, Nov. 9—(AP)—The United States, Britain and France tonight asked the Security Council to put the Chinese Communist crisis in North Korea ahead of all other business tomorrow and completed a resolution demanding that Red China withdraw its thousands of troops from Korea.

The U. S. formally called for the Security Council to take up the American complaint against the Chinese Communists at 3 p.m. (EST) tomorrow instead of dealing with the Palestine case as scheduled.

Chinese Reds Enroute
In asking for urgent discussion of the Chinese Communist intervention in North Korea, the American acted before a Communist Chinese delegation had an opportunity to arrive here. The Council issued an invitation yesterday but several delegations served notice they would not postpone all action until the Communists arrived.

Porter McKee, spokesman for the United States delegation, made this statement: "The United States, the United Kingdom, and France have requested The Security Council to place the Korean question of the agenda of tomorrow's meeting so the Council may continue to consider what action should be taken to meet the situation created by the Communist Chinese intervention."

Serious, Direct Questions
"Thus far, we have not been able to ascertain when the Chinese delegation is likely to arrive. As Ambassador Austin stated yesterday, the United States will have some direct and serious questions to put to them."

"However, the Council must move ahead. It cannot allow Communist China, by timing their arrival at Lake Success to fit their own choice and purpose, to impede the operation of the Council. The clear duty of the Council is to do everything it can as rapidly as it can to prevent the conflict in Korea from spreading."

Issue Special Visas

The State Department said in Washington today it was directing American authorities in Prague to issue visas to a delegation of nine Communist Chinese representatives who are believed to be en route here to take part in the Council discussions on charges of American aggression against Formosa.

There has been no reply to the Council invitation yesterday but observers here speculated the Communist Chinese would instruct the same delegation to sit in on the charges against Red China also.

The U. S., Britain, France and Ecuador were among the sponsors of the resolution to be put up in the Security Council. Its major points were laid down earlier this week but its introduction was delayed until all technicalities could be settled.

Counting on the Absentee Ballots

The absentee ballots, cast in Tuesday's county election, numbering 337, counted Thursday by two members of each political party, Frank W. Hayes and Fred F. Wesner represent the Democrats, Chester L. Wolfe and Herb E. Studer, the Republicans. They are being assisted by James H. Green, county clerk, and his deputy, Lee Brandt.

The results will be resealed sometime today. The county chairman of each political party submits the names of four party members, and from these four the county clerk selects two as counters. If the first second called cannot serve, the clerk then calls the other two.

Truman Faces Hot Congress Next Session

Delays Decision On Early Call In Order To Duck The 81st

By JOHN B. OWEN

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9—(AP)—President Truman today faced a big decision—whether to compromise or fight it out with a new, 82nd Congress hostile to much of his program.

Resting on a cruise in Chesapeake Bay, Mr. Truman was believed to be wrestling with the problem. There was as yet no indication what line he would take.

For one thing he put off a decision, possibly until next week, on whether to call the 81st Congress, now a "lame duck" legislature, back into session earlier than Nov. 27 to act on measures he calls vitally important.

This subject has been on Mr. Truman's mind more than two weeks. No reason was given for the additional delay.

Plans New Strategy
However, the stunning Republican comeback at the polls Tuesday—when the President had predicted a Democratic sweep—doubtless required a new examination of strategy.

The newly elected Congress which takes office Jan. 3 will be heavily influenced by a coalition of Republicans and Southern Democrats, stronger than ever, and hostile to many presidential plans.

This working partnership has played hob with some of Mr. Truman's pet domestic ideas in the present Congress.

Now, buoyed up by the election returns, it will have even greater voice in the session slated to start Nov. 27.

In studying an earlier summons for the lawmakers, Mr. Truman explained he had in mind rent control, an excess profits tax and other legislation including statehood for Alaska and Hawaii.

Favors Few Changes

There were signs too that the administration would like to knock out features of the anti-subversives law to which it objects as dangerous and unworkable. But re-election of its chief author, Senator McCarran (D-Nev.), and many of those who backed the law made any rewriting of it in the short session an unlikely prospect.

Mr. Truman told a news conference that the excess profits tax proposal is exceedingly important. Congress has pledged to go to work on this in the short session. It would be a bill to siphon billions off war-inflated profits of corporations.

The President referred to Alaska-Hawaii statehood legislation as of vital importance. Congress has pledged to take this up early too, but the issue could easily develop a wrangle, blocking passage in the few weeks remaining of the present Congress.

No Comment By Lewis On Taft

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Nov. 9—(AP)—John L. Lewis, head of the United Mine Workers, declined today to comment on the re-election of U. S. Senator Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio).

Lewis, who opposed the Taft-Hartley labor law co-authored by Senator Taft, indicated during the recent campaign that Ohio UMW members might walk off their jobs if Taft visited the mines.

Terms New Congress As Reactionary

MOSCOW, Nov. 9—(AP)—In its first comment on the U. S. elections Pravda declared today that the new American congress will differ but little from the old one, since the Democratic and Republicans are equally reactionary.

Governor Smith Appoints 27th Dist. Circuit Judge

JEFFERSON CITY, Nov. 9—(AP)—Gov. Forrest Smith appointed J. O. Swink of Farmington today to replace Judge Norwin D. Houser as circuit judge in the 27th judicial circuit.

Norwin was named commissioner of the St. Louis court of appeals yesterday. He succeeds Walter E. Bennick who was chosen last week by Smith as a judge of the St. Louis court of appeals.

Long Distance Operations Snarled In Some Localities

NEW YORK, Nov. 9—(AP)—A nation-wide strike of 33,000 telephone workers today slowed down America's long distance service.

Most local service was not affected. Two off-duty policemen and pickets engaged in a minor clash in Pittsburgh.

Telephone officials in San Francisco reported several wires cut there in what they described as an apparent sabotage attempt.

Mannie Silva, area strike director for northern California and Nevada, flatly denied any union responsibility for the "purported sabotage."

The strike is being waged by members of the CIO Communications Workers of America to enforce pay increase demands.

About 16,000 of the 33,000 strikers are employed by the Western Electric Company, manufacturing and installing branch of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company.

They walked out at dawn after the union rejected a proposed increase of 10 to 11½ cents an hour. The union announced it was demanding a "substantial boost."

Present wages were reported to average $1.55 to $1.62 an hour.

The other strikers are employed by the Michigan Bell Telephone company and are engaged in a separate wage dispute.

Federal mediators met with the company and union during the day but finally suspended talks until tomorrow.

Strikers posted pickets around telephone exchanges from one coast to the other to induce almost 300,000 members of other branches of the CWA, including operators, not to work.

Joseph Beirne, president of the CWA, addressed 2,500 long line employees at a closed meeting and aides said he reported himself pleased at the progress of the strike.

Beirne earlier said: "We hope we can bring the issues to a successful conclusion rapidly so we can get back to work to furnish the nation with its vitally-needed telephone service."

End Marathon Television Campaign

Roundup Of Election Data

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9—(AP)—The total popular vote in Tuesday's elections, though incomplete in most states, has reached a record for a non-presidential year of 40,727,548.

Republicans outvoted the Democrats 21,049,778 to 18,684,129 in the aggregate. The vote for other parties—most states have no counted these yet—was 598,453.

THIS MAKES A GRAND TOTAL of 40,332,360 for all parties. But the vote in Georgia on a constitutional amendment exceeded the party vote by 259,642, and that in Louisiana on an amendment surpassed the party figure by 135,546, bringing the total incomplete popular vote to 40,727,548.

THE PREVIOUS RECORD for an off-year election was 37,304,380 in 1938. It was 33,874,568 in 1946 and 30,024,927 in 1942.

The last presidential election in 1948 brought out 48,833,680. But the record for such an election is 49,820,312, made in 1940.

In arriving at the total incomplete vote in Tuesday's election the Associated Press used the highest vote in each state. In most instances it was for governor or senator.

Tiger Spank Mexico, 34-0

The Smith-Cotton Tigers staged a brilliant second-half scoring spree Thursday night to completely overwhelm an over-rated Mexico Military eleven by a score of 34-0. The Bengals ran over 28 points in the last two periods to make their season record six wins and one defeat. The Tigers play the North Kansas City Hornets in their season finale next Friday on the local gridiron. (For further details see sports page.)

Governors Plan To Resign For Senate Seats

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9—(AP)—Three governors who were elected to the Senate in Tuesday's election said today that they plan to resign to take their new seats in the present Congress.

Governor Frank Carlson of Kansas, Earl C. Clements of Kentucky and John O. Pastore of Rhode Island were elected to succeed a trio of senators they appointed last year to fill unexpired terms.

Each of them said he intends to take his senate seat in the post-election session of congress scheduled to start Nov. 27.

Whether they resign in time to be sworn in at the start of the November session, they said, will depend upon how quickly the official returns are canvassed and they receive their election certificates.

Carlson will succeed Senator Darby, whom he appointed to fill the vacancy caused by the death of the late Senator Clyde M. Reed. Carlson was elected to complete Reed's term, expiring this year, and also for a new six-year term. Similarly, Clements was elected to finish out a short term and for a full term. He will replace Senator Withers, whom he appointed to take Vice President Barkley's seat in the senate.

Pastore also said he intends to resign and be sworn in as a senator during the present congress, although he may be delayed because the counting of absentee ballots does not begin in Rhode Island until December 5. He will succeed Senator Leahy, whom he appointed to fill out the term of Howard McGrath.

Power Plant Cuts December Light Bills—Christmas Present

STANBERRY, Mo., Nov. 9—(AP)—Electricity users here will receive a Christmas present from the city.

December light bills will be trimmed 50 per cent by the municipally owned plant as a yuletide gesture.

SEDALIA NOTE

Thomas M. Mullaly, manager of the Sedalia Southwestern Bell office and plant, said last night, that he anticipated no emergency in the Sedalia area. If such an emergency should develop, he said, the service in Sedalia would be maintained and communications repair and maintenance continued.

Z. Lyle Brown, district manager, said shortly after the strike warning broke, that there were no Western Electric employees working in the Sedalia district, and he saw no logical reason for impaired service here.

In New York, the majority of long distance operators declined to cross the picket line at the A. T. & T. building.

The company contended, however, that it was able to maintain an average of 82 per cent of the normal operating force at switchboard in New York, partly through replacements by persons not normally on operating jobs.

A company spokesman said the average in 14 key cities across the country was "close to 85 per cent" of the normal operating force, through regular operators and replacements.

KIRKSVILLE, Mo., Nov. 9—(AP)—Western Electric Company strikers around Southwestern Bell Telephone building here today without giving any explanation. George Mills, manager of the telephone office here, said picket lines were withdrawn about 2:30 p.m. after they had been set up this morning and that telephone operators had returned immediately to their jobs.

Telephone service came to a virtual halt after the telephone operators went to lunch at noon and then refused to cross the picket lines upon their return. Only emergency calls were put through in the afternoon until the operators went back to work following the withdrawal of the pickets. Mills said he had received no statement from union spokesmen as to why the pickets were removed.

He said the percentages were: Boston 52, Buffalo 70, Philadelphia 51, Pittsburgh 90, Cincinnati 26, Kansas City, Mo., 75, Minneapolis 87, and "normal" operating service in Cleveland, Detroit, Louisville, Chicago and Memphis.

Hampers "Long Distance"
The immediate effect of the strike was to hamper long distance service to varying degrees across the country.

The long range possibility, if the strike was prolonged, was that dial and other mechanical equipment might deteriorate and interrupt local service.

Even in areas where the operating force appeared adequate, the possibility of getting long range calls through depended on conditions at the destination and along the way.

A Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company spokesman in San Francisco said several "jumpy" wires were discovered cut yesterday afternoon.

The wires connect the central office with several subscribers of the company, including Trans World Airlines and several hotels.

The spokesman said the damage was detected quickly and that service was affected only briefly.

The fighting broke out in Pittsburgh when two policemen approached a revolving line of about 200 pickets and got into an argument with them.

Recheck on Eastern District Vote

In the unofficial tabulation of the votes cast in Tuesday election that of A. H. Wilks for judge of the eastern district on the county court was given as 4086 when it should have been 4,270 a recheck on the tabulation showed. The vote of E. L. Birdsong for that office was 4,880.

Nursing School Re-Opens At Springfield

Announcement of the re-opening of the Burge Hospital School of Nursing at Springfield, Missouri, was made today by Horace L. Burge, Administrator.

The nursing school will be affiliated with Drury College, where nurses in training will get their basic sciences. Pre-clinical psychometric tests will be given at the hospital beginning December 18th, Mr. Burge said. These tests will determine an applicant's aptitude for the nursing profession.

Nursing classes will be limited to thirty girls. Special classrooms for the school are in the process of construction on the Burge Hospital campus on North Robberson. Among the subjects to be taught will be Nursing Arts, Social Science, Clinical Practice, Operating Room Technique, Dietetics, Pathology and Drugs and Solutions.

The first class will start Monday January 29, but subsequent classes will start in September. The training course is a three year course.

Burge said the need for nurses is great—not only in Springfield, but in the entire Ozarks area. He said one reason the hospital attached such urgency to reopening the training school was the fact that the hospital is attempting to serve all the Ozarks area.

The program was presided over by Mrs. Russell Conn, president of the Ladies Auxiliary. She presented Mrs. Alice White, a charter member of the organization with a paid-up membership and with a corsage.

Commander Bacon pointed out the fact that the American Legion program is knitted closely around two main objectives. First, the rehabilitation which encompasses all services for the disabled and dependents of the dead, and those programs which foster and perpetuate a 100 per cent Americanism. The speaker said, "We of the American Legion feel to let the public know of our full program for we are in fact one of the greatest service organizations of the country."

Child Welfare Cited

He said, "We wonder how many of the members and people know of child welfare, of the million boys who played American Legion baseball; of the 2700 schools of instruction for aliens, who become American citizens, of the 45 boy states, and the close cooperation of American Legion with school associations and many other things that the America Legion sponsors."

In closing the state Legion commander said, "America needs can be met only by the spirit of highest citizenship. The American Legion programs are founded on spirit. Those programs are every veterans' opportunity to translate his gratitude for his heritage of freedom into continued service to his state and nation. By so doing, he will insure that the rich heritage which is his will be transmitted to his children and to his children's children."

Red Cross Corner

November is the month of Junior Red Cross enrollment. The American Junior Red Cross is the junior membership of the American Red Cross and is Red Cross in all the schools of the United States, public, private and parochial. As part of the organized, humanitarian program of Red Cross it offers its members an opportunity to serve others, both at home and abroad, in peace and war, through adaptable channels that are correlated with school activities. Thus it forms a link between the schools, and the broadening circle of local, national and international society.

Margaret Egan, chairman of Junior Red Cross in Pettis county, states that the material for Junior Red Cross enrollment is now in all the schools in the county. The gift boxes for overseas shipment should be filled and returned to the Red Cross office, 410½ South Ohio, by December 1, if possible.

Too much emphasis cannot be put on these gift boxes. The letters that come back to us from Great Britain and Europe, tell a story, both joyous and tragic, of the enormous happiness that these little boxes have brought and will bring to less fortunate children, who save for these boxes, would have no Christmas at all.

Enrollment of both elementary and secondary schools is on a group basis. No individual fee is required. The enrollment fee is 50 cents for each elementary class room, and one dollar for each group of one hundred pupils or less in a secondary school. . . . We urge all parents to encourage in their children interest in, and enthusiasm for Junior Red Cross. It is a very great part of a very great institution.

According to those who have gone dashing off to the state capitol to assist the Mobile Blood Unit to take blood donations at the state prison is an unusual experience. But behind these trips is a lot of spade work, hours of telephoning, and, in case of the latest trip, last Thursday, November 2, two preliminary journeys at the crack of a cold dawn. In order to make connections with the group leaving Sedalia around seven, Mrs. John Coffey had to come from Spring Fork, and Mrs. John W. Sanders from Green Ridge, before daylight. Being Registered Nurses, this apparently was all in the day's work, and they joined the following for the trip to Jefferson City: Staff Aides: Mrs. Marvin Klein, Mrs. Georgia Holbrook, Mrs. Henry Niemann, Mrs. E. F. Strickler; Canteen: Mrs. Aubrey Curtis, Mrs. D. C. Davis, Mrs. Robert Hogan, Mrs. Harvey McFarland; Nurses' Aides: Miss Marie Fritz, Miss Rosalie Mountjoy, Mrs. Mary Schupp, Mrs. A. A. Studebaker; Nurse: Mrs. Emmett Sullivan; Registered Nurses: Mrs. John Coffey, Miss Cleo Hartnett, Mrs. John W. Sanders, and Mrs. Zeta Woodward.

This chapter is very proud of the work being done by the volunteers in the home care of the sick program. Last Thursday, Mrs. E. M. Stafford, Jr., chairman, assisted by Mrs. Emma Meier, committee member, presented the program to the Altar Society of Sacred Heart church, explaining the whys and wherefores of the project, and the great importance of the training. Mrs. Stafford informs us that Mrs. Richard Lambert, a member of the county liaison committee, has arranged for a class room to be set up in LaMonte. Sessions will start there Monday, with Mrs. H. A. Wade instructing. Registration is in order for future classes to be held at the Elks club, and for further information, call the chapter office, No. 618. With conditions as they are at the present time, a working knowledge of home care of the sick, is something that every woman should have. Don't wait too long to enter a class. You may need this knowledge sooner than you think. Register now. Then, when sickness comes, and it is inevitable, you will be prepared.

Story of a Revelation of Big Bargain

East Texas Farmer Revealed Buyer Of Surplus Goods

By L. T. Easley

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—(AP)—The story of an East Texas farmer who bought $1,209,600 worth of surplus military equipment for only $68.4 and later sold it back to the government for $63,000 was brought to light today by the senate defense investigating committee.

Senator Lyndon B. Johnson (D-TEX.), committee chairman, declined to identify the purchaser by name. He did say the man was a naval officer in World War II and had made the bargain in the process of acquiring some $3,000 worth of surplus equipment for his farm.

Johnson himself was in Texas, but he released the story through his office here. It gave this account:

Checking over the government catalogue of surplus items, the farmer ran across a listing of aircraft computers. Guessing them to be small cardboard devices that could be used for calculating the land area of farms, he put in a bid of less than 5 cents each for 163 of them.

Purchaser Puzzled

Learning his bid had been accepted he asked surplus disposal authorities at San Antonio, Tex., to send them to him parcel post. They replied that such a delivery was impossible, the computers occupied about an acre of ground and they wished he would hurry up and call for them.

The puzzled purchaser then hurried to San Antonio to find out what kind of white elephant he had acquired. He found them to be brand new, complicated pieces of mechanism that had cost the government $7,200 each.

At a total cost of $4,000, he had them crated and shipped to his farm for storage. Then he notified air force procurement authorities to tell them what he possessed.

Officials from Wright Field in Dayton, O., hurried down to East Texas to see for themselves. They ended up by gladly paying the Navy veteran $68,000 for the lot.

Senator Johnson quoted this excerpt from a letter he received from the Texan:

"The thing may be summed up by saying that the disposal agency was delighted to unload what they thought was a heap of junk on an unsuspecting country boy, and that the colonel in charge of the purchasing agency and the personnel at Wright field were delighted to repurchase this equipment in brand new condition."

Declaring "this is perhaps the most astounding case of shortsightedness the committee has uncovered, Johnson said he was making it public in the hope it would impress all government agencies to be more cautious in disposing of defense equipment.

Leads Woman For Governor

PHOENIX, Ariz., Nov. 9.—(AP)—Howard Pyle, the Republican candidate given only an outside chance of running a strong race, apparently is Arizona's new governor.

The 44-year-old radio executive, who staged a marathon campaign that carried to almost every corner of traditionally Democratic Arizona, had piled up a 2,587 vote lead today with only scattered incomplete precincts remaining to be heard from.

He had a total of 94,480 to 91,893 for Mrs. Ana Frohmler, the Democratic standard bearer, on the basis of complete returns from 445 of the state's 481 precincts and incomplete from 36.

Pyle plunged into the lead from the moment the first returns were reported Tuesday. The battle seemed for several hours, with Mrs. Frohmler going into the lead for a brief period, but then turned slowly in Pyle's favor.

Late returns last night boosted Pyle's margin by more than 1,000 votes over earlier totals.

Mrs. Frohmler, a veteran state official who had served as auditor for the past 24 years, said she doubted if she could overcome Pyle's advantage, but declined to concede until results are more conclusive.

She is the first woman to ever run for Governor in Arizona.

Regains Some Lost Prestige

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—(AP)—The Gallup poll, which went astray in the 1948 elections, was back on the beam today—its forecast borne out by yesterday's balloting.

As a result, the Gallup people said they are "eating pheasant instead of crow."

They ate crow when they picked Gov. Thomas E. Dewey over President Truman in 1948.

Before yesterday's election, the American Institute of Public Opinion, as the Gallup poll is known, said the Democrats would win 51 per cent of the house of representatives and the Republicans 49 per cent.

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 9.—(AP)—Sheriff J. A. Purdome and Mrs. Esther L. Rimann, whose husband was slain in a spot killing in 1949, are to be married within a few weeks.

The couple, in announcing their marriage plans last night, said no date had been set for the ceremony. Mrs. Rimann is 42 and Purdome 52. He was divorced by his first wife in 1949. They have four children.

Mrs. Rimann's husband, Wolf, and the sheriff became friends in 1935 when Rimann was golf professional at the Hillcrest Country Club. Rimann was killed after he announced his intentions of getting a wholesale liquor agency here.

Mrs. Rimann said she and Purdome discovered about 10 months ago they had mutual interests in sports. She is a top-flight golfer, Purdome said "I'm going to take up the game seriously next year."

Congress May Step Up Taxes

Is Possibility of Reaching Highest Record Ever

By Francis M. Le May

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—(AP)—Congress may increase taxes again, perhaps to the highest level on record, notwithstanding the turn of political fortunes in Tuesday's elections.

The tax issue—on a multi-billion dollar war excess profit levy—is scheduled for consideration when the present congress reconvenes Nov. 27. The idea back of it is to prevent profiteering, curb inflation and provide money for guns.

In the face of vast spending in the Korean war, and threats of other Communist aggression elsewhere, tax policy has taken on some bi-partisan aspects.

When congress adjourned in September, to get ready for the elections, some top Republicans—as well as Democrats—were calling for a "pay-as-you-go" plan to finance the huge rearmament program.

Senator Taft, the Senate Republican policy chairman who won reelection by a thumping vote in Ohio, was a leader in this move. With him were such Democrats as Senator Byrd of Virginia.

Thus, tax policy appears to have been taken out of the sphere of "fair deal" legislation, although prior to the Korean war some Republicans had accused the administration on many occasions of seeking to use taxation powers to socialize the nation.

The attitude of top Republicans and Democrats, who survived Tuesday's election, seems to be that rising taxes must accompany the growing costs of building armaments against Communism.

But attitudes may differ sharply, when they get down to writing the details of new tax legislation.

Congress by overwhelming votes just before it quit in September boosted individual and corporation taxes by $4,700,000,000 a year, bringing the annual tax load to about $42,000,000,000. And an agreement for adjournment was blocked until the lawmakers wrote into the tax bill a stipulation that the House ways and means and Senate finance committees would have a big excess profits tax measure ready when the lawmakers returned.

The House ways and means committee will open public hearings next Wednesday on tax proposals.

Bonds Cash-Ins Exceed Buying

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—(AP)—Cash-ins of Series E savings bonds during October outstripped new purchases by $39,000,000, treasury records showed today.

Officials said that was an improvement over August and September, when cash-ins exceeded purchases by $124,000,000 and $104,000,000, respectively.

Redemptions totaled $360,000,000 last month while purchases amounted to $271,000,000.

For the first ten months of this year, redemptions totaled $3,245,000,000; purchases $3,138,000,000. Cash-ins outstripped purchases every month since last April.

The outstanding volume at the end of October was $34,449,000,000 compared with the peak of $34,542,000,000 at the end of July.

Warns Against Anticipate No Big Changes in Farm Program

Gen. Eisenhower Voices Views on Regimentation

COLLEGE STATION, Tex., Nov. 9.—(AP)—General Eisenhower warned today against gradual surrender of freedoms to the federal government.

"The central struggle of our times," said the war-time supreme Allied commander in Europe, "is that of freedom against regimentation."

His address was prepared for the inauguration today of Dr. H. T. Harrington as president of Texas A. & M. College here.

"In this country, we need not fear a Mussolini or a Hitler," said Eisenhower, now president of Columbia University. "Nor need we fear a Lenin."

"But one thing we must fear—decay of our freedom through our own neglect. A Mussolini, Hitler or Lenin would not tolerate freedom of the ballot, yet half our people do not choose to exercise it. No dictator would permit free assembly of citizens to discuss public questions; yet how many of us exercise our right—and obligation—to scrutinize and debate proposed legislation?"

"Despotism, whatever its guise, develops when men, losing faith in themselves, surrender bit by bit their own responsibilities to a central authority."

Eisenhower expressed confidence "America's moral, intellectual and material resources are more than equal" to "the external threat against America's freedoms." He said the source of this external threat "is clear and the destructive purpose unmistakable."

He said he had no fear Americans will respond to dangers of which they are fully aware and which they understand. The danger, he said, "is that the cares of daily life can blind them to a creeping peril."

India Has a Sectional Dispute

MADRAS, India.—(AP)—A south Indian organization called the Dravidian Federation has called for a boycott of north Indian business.

Members of the federation have been asked by the executive to picket cloth shops run by north Indians and to avoid dealing with banking, insurance and pawn-broking firms headquartered in the north.

The federation explained that it sought "to convince the public of the exploitation by north Indians, particularly in the matter of textile goods, and to prevent money from south India flowing to north India. The federation also opposes the central government law which will make Hindi, a northern language, the national language."

Business Men Fight Excess Profit Taxes

By FRANCIS M. LEMAY

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—(AP)—A committee of over 100 top business executives launched today an all-out fight against an excess profits tax and called for "sound alternative corporate taxation" during the defense emergency.

They assailed the idea of a super levy on so-called "excess profits" as inequitable, inflationary, destructive and dangerous.

But in the face of the great cost of building armaments against Communist aggression, the businessmen said "business profits must bear their fair share of increased taxation."

Issued Statement

They issued a statement of basic principles, saying:

"The tax and fiscal program of the federal government must be geared to a long time high level of defense expenditures. The objective is to provide adequate defense without inflation, to increase the level of taxation to meet the requirements of a realistic pay-as-you-go budget consistent with the system of political freedom and economic initiative which we are committed to defend."

Tax Very Harmful

Beardsley Ruml, active in creation of the committee, said in a formal statement:

"The excess profits tax is a very harmful and dangerous tax, in spite of its superficial plausibility. It is inequitable and inflationary. The committee is clear that it wants defense without inflation, that it expects business to bear its fair share of defense costs x x x (by) sound methods of corporate taxation."

Many businessmen already have told the congressional tax staff they would rather have another boost in normal corporation income taxes than the imposition of a complicated levy aimed at "excess profits."

Anticipate No Big Changes in Farm Program

JEFFERSON CITY, Nov. 9.—(AP)—Sen. Clinton P. Anderson of New Mexico, former secretary of agriculture, predicted today there would be no big changes soon in the national agriculture program.

"I look for the 82nd Congress to be more conservative than the 81st," Anderson said in a speech prepared for delivery before the Missouri Farm Bureau Federation convention here.

The 81st Congress made no big changes in the flexible price support program of the 1949 Agricultural Act, Anderson said, adding that "I see no reason that the 82nd will."

The New Mexico Democrat who served in President Truman's cabinet from 1945 to 1948, based his prediction on this year's election results.

He said Senator Johnson (D) of Oklahoma was shoved out of the picture in the primary. Johnson, he described as the Senate agriculture committee's "only outside" advocate of sudden and sweeping change."

Other lawmakers who might have gone along with proposals of a less flexible farm program, a leaning toward the Brannan plan, also have been dropped from congressional rolls through election defeat, Anderson said.

The election results gave "renewed evidence that we will allow the Agriculture Act of 1949 to be tested before we tinker with it," the former cabinet member said.

Wake Island Hero Wins Congress Seat

TOWSON, Md., Nov. 9.—(AP)—James Patrick S. Devereux, retired marine general who was the hero of Wake Island's stout but hopeless defense right after Pearl Harbor, still has his fingers crossed. By complete, unofficial returns show he won a seat in congress Tuesday.

It was quite a feat for the wiry 47-year-old Maryland's second district has sent a Republican to congress only four times in 50 years.

The unofficial returns showed Devereux polled 97,926 votes to 95,398 for Rep. William P. Bolton, the Democratic incumbent. The race was in doubt right down to the late returns because most of the final-reporting precincts were in Baltimore county, which Bolton carried. Bolton conceded Devereux's election today.
